Decision Waited On Transfer

Project Saturn Hints U.S. Not Pushing Space Efforts

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP)—Project Saturn, key to the United States' big leap into space, has been barely rocking along on a 40-hour, keep-down-the-overtime week.

If Saturn's progress at Redstone Arsenal here is any test, interviews with its top missilemen indicate the United States seems to be making little extra effort to overtake the Soviets in the space race.

A decision is expected this week on whether the Saturn project will be transferred to the National Aeronautical and Space Administration. Earlier there had been indications the space program would be turned over to the Air Force.

Under whatever auspices the Saturn development is expected to continue, informed Washington sources say. But the pace so far hardly has been breakneck.

Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, commander of the Army Ordnance Missile Command here, says: "At present, plans based on the present budget plus what appears to be the probable budget for next year do not support the Saturn program at the speed at which it could be developed. We are not talking billions of dollars, either. We are talking millions."

Making no bones that he's boilsore over what he considers the lag in the nation's space program, Medaris says: "The basic problem is simple. There must be a positive decision. Are we or are we not going to compete with the Russians? If we are, there has to be a solid, well-financed program. Right now we are straddling the issue."

These facts were gleaned in a series of interviews with Redstone Arsenal sources:

Project Saturn funds suffered an unannounced cut of nearly 48 per cent this year by the Defense Department — from 135 million dollars to 70 million. The cutback already has resulted in a seven-month to one-year stretch-out in the original development program.

The announced objective of Project Saturn was to provide an "efficient and reliable system for lifting multi-ton loads into high orbit around the earth and deep into space" by 1962-3.

No scientist or military man interviewed here was willing to predict the United States would meet that schedule.

The project was announced in Washington Sept. 12, 1958. It proposed construction of a 1½ million pound thrust rocket engine, or booster.

On Feb. 12, 1959, the Advanced Research Projects Agency said in a news release the "Saturn program is progressing at an accelerated rate. The booster is expected to be test flown in 1960."

In July, the Defense Department announced, "The Saturn test vehicle will be delivered to the test lab (at Huntsville) in November and the first static testing is due in December."

The July announcement said the test tower would be completed by Sept. 1. It wasn't. It won't be ready for weeks.

While the engines for the 1½-million-pound thrust rocket have been delivered, the fuel tanks for the super booster have not been completed. In fact, the fabrication laboratory schedule does not even call for the assembly of the largest of fuel tanks until the end of this month.

Adding to the problems which bedevil Saturn, the ARPA, which has been in charge of the project to date, announced Sept. 23 it was getting out of the space business. Dr. Herbert C. York, Defense Department director of research and engineering, told a news conference that responsibility for development of Saturn "eventually will go to the Air Force."

A spokesman for the Army Ordnance Missile Command was asked whether he thought the administrative changeover would delay the Saturn program and whether, since the Air Force had its own space program, the project itself be endangered.

He merely raised his hands skyward, palms up, rolled his eyes, and shrugged.

Hearings Open Today

Steel Fact-Finding Panel Aims To Gain Settlement

Voluntary Agreement Board Goal

Steelworkers Plan To Fight Issuance Of Any Injunction

WASHINGTON (AP) — A fact-finding board opens hearings today on the nation's longest steel strike, hoping to produce a settlement rather than just some advice for President Eisenhower.

Acting under the Taft-Hartley law, the President appointed the three-man board to recommend whether he should seek a federal court injunction to stop the walkout for 80 days.

The Steelworkers Union plans to fight issuance of such an injunction.

Board chairman George W. Taylor, who does not think much of the Taft-Hartley law, said Sunday that he and his colleagues would use the hearings to try to help management and labor reach a voluntary agreement in the 90-day-old strike.

"I think it's our responsibility to do everything within the limits of our authority to settle this dispute," said Taylor, known as a skilled arbiter of labor-management disputes. He is professor of business at the University of Pennsylvania and was chairman of the War Labor Board during World War II.

Help from the panel was welcomed by David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers Union. If the panel can help achieve an agreement, he said, "we will be most happy."

Officially the board must determine whether continuation of the strike would cause a national emergency. In the open hearings, the steel companies were expected to argue that it would. The union was expected to argue the opposite.

The union argument apparently would follow these lines:

1. The non-union plants, 15 per cent of the industry, have continued to operate and can supply the nation's defense needs.

2. Although the strike has caused unemployment of 800,000 national unemployment still is below five million, a total that the President has not considered an emergency in the past.

The board is to file its report with the President by Friday.

Perkins, president of the University of Delaware; George W. Taylor, Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania, chairman, and Paul N. Lehoczky of Columbus, O. The group opened hearings today. Car's Plunge Off Highway Hurts 3 Girls

Auto Dives 37 Feet Over Embankment Near Cumberland

Three New Cumberland teen-age girls are hospitalized today with injuries received when their car left State Route 2 and plunged over a 37-foot embankment south of the Hancock County seat Sunday afternoon.

West Virginia State Police at Weirton said the mishap occurred when the driver attemped a left turn onto Wiley Ridge Rd. The injured are:

Miss Diane Chamberlain, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gale D. Chamberlain, 915 3rd Ave.

Miss Martha Lapiena, 16, of 715 Ridge Ave.

Miss Mary Jane Fisher, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fisher, 705 2nd Ave.

The trio is being treated at Weirton General Hospital for various injuries. Miss Chamberlain, the driver, suffered multiple lacerations of the face. She is in "good" condition.

Miss Lapiena suffered lacerations and abrasions of the face and also is listed in "good" condition. Miss Fisher, a freshman student at New Cumberland High School, suffered a possible fractured ankle and multiple abrasions. She is in "satisfactory" condition, the hospital said.

State police said Miss Chamberlain's 1953 two-door sedan was demolished in the crash. The accident still is under investigation.

City Officers Report Lone Weekend Crash

No one was injured in the city's lone traffic mishap over the weekend, police reported.

A car driven by Lenore Balint, 20, of 1022 Beaver Ave., Midland, swerved across the center line on Harvey Ave. at Myrtle St., scraping the entire left side of a westbound car operated by Joseph M. Sopka, 28, of Monaca, who had stopped, police said.

Carl Russell, 903 Bank St., told police the fan and flywheel on his 1955 sedan were damaged when it struck a pipe sticking up in Haywood St. about 4 a. m. Sunday.

Meanwhile, police said Elzie Harsha, 66, of Calcutta was the driver of a car involved in a minor mishap Friday afternoon on W. 5th St. with a Golden Flower Co. truck operated by Frederick Yonz of Rubicon St. The right fender and door of the Harsha car were damaged, police were told.

Report Bares Mr. K Crimes In Ukraine

WASHINGTON (AP) — Testimony of nine witnesses on purges, terrorism and man-made famine in the Ukraine during the 1930s and 1940s has been released in a new congressional report titled "The Crimes of Khrushchev."

The report, second of a series being released by the House Committee on Un-American Activities, contains testimony taken Sept. 9, 10 and 11 prior to the arrival of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev on Sept. 15 for his U. S. tour.

Nicholoas Prychodko, an engineer from Toronto, Canada, testified he lived in the Ukraine during the 1930-33 famine.

Prychodko said most of the Ukrainian food crop was exported on orders from Moscow because of resistance in the Ukraine to the Communists. He said that at that time Khrushchev was in the Ukraine as "one of the esteemed executors of Stalin's genocide of the Ukrainian population."

Petro Pavlovych, former editor of a newspaper in the Ukrainian community of Vinnitsa, told of the 1943 discovery there of 95 mass graves of 9,439 bodies—victims of a 1937-38 purge when Khrushchev was first secretary of the Central Committee of the Communist party in the Ukraine.

The former editor said his real name is Apollon Trembow and that he now lives at Orrtanna, Pa.

Third Murder Admitted By Ex-Soldier, 21

JERSEYVILLE, Ill. (AP) — A third cold-blooded murder has been admitted by James Palmer, 21, recent bridegroom, ex-soldier and former bellhop.

Palmer, gaunt, mild-mannered and red-haired, was captured Saturday after breaking into a Jerseyville cement plant and holding eight men at bay with a rifle for an hour and a half. He got $2,000 in the plant and told the eight he was going to shoot seven of them and take owner Louis Gorman hostage.

But Palmer glanced away for a moment and Gorman, husky Jerseyville police commissioner, slapped the rifle away and knocked Palmer down.

Palmer confessed, apparently without remorse, the killing of Thomas L. Nelson, 40, proprietor of a St. Louis County, Mo., bait and tackle shop, Sept. 12, and a waitress, Hazel Riley, in nearby Wood River, Ill., Sept. 15.

Sunday night he said to Deputy Sheriff Mel Leach, "I think there is something else I ought to tell you."

He said he shot a filling station attendant in Humboldt, Tenn., on Sept. 24. A telephone check disclosed that a Billy Marshall, 22, was found shot to death in a Humboldt filling station Sept. 24.

It was another tragic weekend for too many Ohioans as a total of at least 25 accidental fatalities were logged during the 54-hour period from 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Sunday covered in the Associated Press count. Of the 25 victims, 12 were mere youngsters from 16 months to 20 years of age.

Traffic was again the No. 1 killer, accounting for 14 lives. Besides the four in the fire, there were seven from miscellaneous causes—from drowning to falls to shooting to an airplane crash.

The fatalities:

More Goods Demanded By Soviet Public

Government Seeks To Meet Requests 'To Some Extent'

MOSCOW (AP)—Quiet but persistent public pressure for more consumer goods has shown itself in recent weeks. The Soviet government is seeking to meet it to some extent.

Premier Nikita Khrushchev made clear last week that his government will continue pushing ahead with its industrialization scheme, thus limiting the supply of consumer items. But some improvement is promised.

Some declaration on the subject may be expected at the meeting beginning Oct. 27 of the Supreme Soviet, the Soviet parliament. Khrushchev set the tune when he publicly discussed consumer goods on his recent tour of Siberia.

He ordered a better supply of consumer goods to Vladivostok, the port on the Pacific which is icebound for three months a year.

In a speech he told his people to dress better and get away from drab grays. He said the Soviet Union must produce more consumer goods of better quality and lower price.

What perhaps is as important as the speeches is the appearance of letters and discussions about prices in the newspapers.

Such subjects are still handled gingerly. But the Moscow paper Soviet Russia printed letter from a worker complaining: "I am fed up with this covering up with Sputniks and airliners.

"Come down to the level of the

No Word On Van Doren

FTC's Testimony Due In TV Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal Trade Commission officials testify today in what may be the wrapup of a congressional investigation of television quiz shows.

Responsibilities of the FTC include the prevention of fraudulent advertising practices.

There still was no word on whether Charles Van Doren, a big winner on the "Twenty One" show, would accept an invitation to testify before the House Legislative Oversight subcommittee.

Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) declined to comment on whether a subpoena would be issued for Van Doren, who won $129,000 on the quiz show three years ago. Van Doren consistently has disclaimed any knowledge of the show's being rigged.

Other "Twenty One" contestants have testified that they were given answers in advance.

As the hearing moved into the home stretch, a Presbyterian Church official said the television industry had sacrificed "ethics, morality and honor" for high audience ratings on the quiz shows.

The Rev. Lawrence McMaster Jr. of New York, executive director of the Department of Radio and Television of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., said in an open letter to the networks and the federal communications commission:

"The only criterion of right and wrong was last night's rating. All was geared to this. The one thing the show had to be was popular. Morality and truth were completely sacrificed to popularity."

A spokesman for the Mutual Broadcasting System replied that the integrity of Mutual's former quiz shows has never been questioned. Other networks have said they did not know some shows were being rigged by individual producers.

Testimony by FCC chairman John Doerfer was attacked Sunday by Robert W. Lishman, chief counsel for the subcommittee.

Doerfer said Saturday the rigging of quiz shows is a fraudulent and deceptive practice. He added "neither the prosecuting attorney in New York nor I have been able to pinpoint any violation of the law."

Pair Grabbed For Burglary

Boat Club, Church Hit In 2 Local Cases

An unknown amount of cash and three main tubes from an electric organ were stolen by thieves who ransacked the First Free Methodist Church on Avondale St. Sunday afternoon, police reported.

In another breaking and entering, two young boys were picked up by police on the River Rd. Sunday at 5:30 p. m. a few minutes after a vending machine was damaged at the nearby Ohio Valley Boat Club.

In the church theft, police said the thieves broke into the building between 12:30 and 3:30 p. m. yesterday, removed the cash from containers in four classrooms and took the tubes from a rented organ.

The boys, 9 and 13, who reside in the downtown area, are to appear at 11 a. m. Tuesday before Chris Pusey, county juvenile officer in connection with the boat club burglary, police said.

The youngsters broke the glass on a soft drink vending machine, broke the caps off three bottles of soft drinks and also broke the door to the coin box, police said. However, no money was taken, police added.

Three other thefts were reported over the weekend.

Councilman Robert W. Sample Jr. told police today thieves took the screwdrivers and a measuring rod from his car parked in his garage on McKinnon Ave. Sunday night.

Evelyn Miller, 2111 Pennsylvania Ave. Ext., said a porch swing valued at $10 was taken from her home yesterday while she was absent.

Clarence Boston, 701 Armstrong Ln., said two hubcaps were taken from his parked car and the trunk lock was broken. The theft occurred Sunday night or early today.

London Thieves Grab $1,400,000 In Gems

LONDON (AP)—A daring band systematically raided a chain of jewelry stores in fashionable London streets last weekend and took jewels worth 500,000 pounds ($1,400,000).

Police said it appeared to be the biggest burglary ever carried out in London's West End.

U.N. Gripped By Deadlock Over Seating

Poland And Turkey Indecisive; Ceylon And Ecuador Voted

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. General Assembly ran into a stubborn deadlock today as it balloted indecisively on Communist Poland and Western-backed Turkey for a seat in the Security Council.

The 82-nation assembly quickly elected Ecuador and Ceylon to fill two of the Council's vacancies, but the hot East-West contest for the third seat appeared headed for a long series of ballots. The deadlock could last for weeks.

On the first secret ballot, Poland received 46 votes and Turkey 36. A two-third majority is required.

A U.S. spokesman said the United States would stick to Turkey indefinitely. Chief U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge said he was optimistic that Turkey would win eventually.

Poland and Turkey are contesting to succeed Japan, whose two-year term on the Security Council ends Jan. 1.

Ceylon was unopposed to succeed Canada as a British Commonwealth member, and Ecuador was the sole candidate for the Latin-American seat now held by Panama.

One contest also was listed for the Economic and Social Council, between India and Japan to take the seat held by Pakistan. Unopposed candidates were Brazil, to succeed Mexico; Denmark, to succeed Finland, and Britain, Poland and the Soviet Union for re-election. The ECOSCO terms, also starting Jan. 1, are for three years.

The rival Security Council aspirants were outwardly optimistic, but both expected considerable balloting.

Other delegates predicted neither would get the necessary two-thirds majority in the 82-nation Assembly and that after five or six fruitless ballots, the Assembly would postpone further voting to next week.

A deadlock could persist indefinitely if hard-core backers of the two rivals held firm. This might result in a compromise dark horse.

Brown Not Candidate

LOS ANGELES (AP) — California Gov. Edmund G. Brown, often mentioned as a possible Democratic dark-horse candidate, says he is not a candidate for president "at this time."

40 Workers In Division

Mercantile Team Starts Community Fund Canvass

Some 40 workers in the Mercantile Division of the Tri-State Community Fund campaign set out today to solicit gifts from an estimated 2,000 employes and executives in 250 of the area's larger business establishments.

Headed by Richard A. Kerin, manager of the Montgomery Ward & Co., as chairman, and Ralph A. Finley, secretary of the Smith & Phillips Co., as vice chairman, the division has been divided into eight commercial classifications.

Each of these units has a team captain who in turn has recruited the necessary number of volunteer workers.

Working supplies issued through team captains included pledge cards, "facts" folders, the familiar "red feathers" — for donors to wear — colorful posters and a letter explaining the purposes of the campaign, which are to be displayed on employe bulletin boards.

In many of the larger business firms, employers held "store personnel meetings" this morning to point up the needs of the Community Fund and to emphasize the community - value of the six health and welfare agencies it serves.

Both David E. Beatty, campaign chairman, and Finley participated in the personnel meeting held by Kerin at Montgomery Ward. All

Truman Had The Same Problem

It is hard to believe in 1959 that as recently as 1952 — only seven years ago—President Truman tried to break a deadlock in steel negotiations by ordering his secretary of commerce to seize and operate the steel industry.

There had been, in his judgment, a breakdown in collective bargaining. He had the same problem that now confronts President Eisenhower. A national emergency loomed if one of the country's basic industries did not reach agreement on a labor contract.

Mr. Truman could have sought a Taft-Hartley injunction. Both houses of Congress had requested him to do so. But it was Mr. Truman's political line in 1952 that the Taft-Hartley Act, which he had vetoed, was beyond the pale.

He had no trouble in convincing himself he had the right to take over any industry whose behavior offended him. At the time, he was furious against steel management, but before the affair was over he had no reason to be happy about organized labor, either. Both sides reviled him.

He learned what no chief executive can afford to forget. There is no credit to be gained by stepping between opponents in a two-way fight.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER has kept his distance in the steel strike of 1959. It is unthinkable today that any chief executive or any attorney general would try to justify anything as drastic as government seizure to break an industrial deadlock.

Yet, in 1952, it still made sense to many politicians and judges that the way to bring about industrial production in the event of a deadlock was to have government seize the industry. There were some 71 seizures during the Roosevelt and Truman administrations.

Even the U.S. Supreme Court, when it made its showdown ruling on Mr. Truman's ill-advised move against the steel industry, split 6-3, with Chief Justice Vinton leading the three dissenting members who said a President had power to seize anything he wanted to seize.

That incredible credo ended on election day in 1952. There is no climate of opinion that would justify seizure today. But the problem that needled Harry Truman is still needling Dwight Eisenhower.

A BREAKDOWN in collective bargaining again threatens the public welfare. The only law available is the Taft-Hartley Act, whose injunction clause is a last resort. No one claims it relieves tension, or that it amounts to a "cooling-off" period. It may turn out to be a "warming-up" period, instead.

President Eisenhower seems to have been trying to make it clear that if driven to this last desperate measure he will ask Congress for a new law when it reconvenes next January.

He looked upon the steel strike as a test of bargaining. If steel flunked its test, there would be a search for an alternative to strikes which penalize the public as well as management and labor.

One plan proposed would forbid a work stoppage and impound a portion of wages and earnings while negotiations were in progress. If the dispute were not settled by a specified deadline, the impounded money would be forfeited to the public treasury. Pressure on both sides for swift settlement would be direct.

They Weren't Really That Smart

It may shock those who think there is a law about everything, but the quiz-show manipulators whose didoes are causing so much speculation committed no known crime.

They merely took advantage of the great Barnum's credo that there's a sucker born every minute and suckers like to be fooled. If Congress could cook up a law to protect the human race against gullibility, Utopia would be within reach.

Congressional investigators have shown interest in what apparently happened to make the quiz shows more suspenseful than they might have been if everything had been left to chance. Perhaps there needs to be a law about deception on television.

If there is, it will raise hob with wrestling matches and a good many of the prizefights. It might cramp the style of performers who appear to be delivering their lines with verve and eclat when all they're doing is reading idiot cards.

But if it barred the possibility in the future of making millions feel like dunces in the presence of a few dozen people who seemed to be supernatural, it would be worth a try.

That was the real harm done by the quiz-show performers, with such unforgettable exceptions as Randolph Churchill who came out of one show looking like a dunce. They made the rest of us feel like dunces. We couldn't understand how they could be so smart when we were so stupid.

They weren't really that smart — not all of them, anyway. The rest of us are still dunces, but we have more company.

Joblessness Can Be Incurable

Two things about joblessness in this country turn murky when the subject is under discussion.

If the senatorial investigators now sticking inquisitive fingers into the subject of unemployment, its causes and effects could push away some of the murk, they would be worth whatever their budget gives them out of taxpayers' funds.

One is a gnawing doubt about the reliability of employment and unemployment statistics, which are not claimed to be anything but educated guesses even by those who compile them.

The other is a doubt about who should be included in unemployment totals.

The totals, of course, do not represent nationwide nose-counting. They are estimates. Because the estimates are made in the same way month in and month out, they can and do serve as reasonable reliable gauges and indexes.

But the fact is they are seized on by axgrinders as though they were absolute and used to prove and disprove all kinds of claims. They have an influence in partisan politics and budgeting. They affect business prospects and wag rates. They need to be absolute, not relative, if absolute conclusions are to be reached every time they are released.

Unemployment, moreover, needs to be broken down into the things that compose it. So does employment, for that matter. It should be possible to distinguish between part-time employes and full-time employes. It should be possible to distinguish between a job-seeker with high skill and a job-seeker with no skill, because the fact is that seekers with no skill are very nearly unemployable.

To the extent that the unskilled also are those incapable of developing skills, the problem is worsened. Nothing anyone could do would upgrade them into employables. They are permanently unemployable.

Yet, they are likely to be carried along in month-to-month reporting on unemployment totals as if they were temporarily out of work, instead of permanently out of work. It is one of the misrepresentations of employment and unemployment that must be cleared up before statistics can be trusted.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The baseball bat is here to stay. It is now clear there is no future for a ball club whose foreign policy is based on a short hit over second base. Back to trivial matters like national survival, inflation, the high cost of living, more gas taxes and the budget.

THE GOVERNMENT has banned 17 lipstick colors as possible detriment to health. Now's the time for a man to prove whether he is a man or a mouse.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt is now on a college faculty, but has asked not to be called "professor." Before a class can pronounce a three-syllable word the lady is apt to be off to some other airfield.

The recent baseball series convinced us that the perfect TV set should dispense frankfurters and mustard. (And how about a slot into which you can drop a coin and get popcorn while watching TV old movies?)

An international meeting of private detectives was just held in New York. It seemed odd to observe one private eye asking, "How do I find the newsstand?" at the Waldorf. And we hear that when one sleuth greeted the waiter with, "What's on the menu?" the waiter replied, "I'll give you a clue. You should dope it out from there."

Ingemar Johannson, world heavyweight champ, was on Dinah Shore's show as a singer and seemed greatly relieved to know he was in a field where he would get his money promptly and know who was working for or against him without a special inquiry.

Not Just A Fairy Tale

Hoffa Seeks Labor Law Loophole

By Victor Riesel

Superstitious is not the word for Jimmy Hoffa. Yet he's worried about Friday, the 13th — of November. From that day on, he won't be able to throw picket lines around as though they were hundred dollar bills.

Victor Riesel

For on Nov. 13 the new labor reform law's picketing sections take effect. Exactly what the act does to his power, Hoffa doesn't quite know. That's why there's been so loud a silence from his inner sanctum. He has been briefed by his 100 lawyers, for most of whom he has cold contempt.

And while he has been listening to them or reading their analyses of what he can or can't do, Hoffa also has been disturbed by news that on or about Nov. 13 a federal court will begin hearings on the Teamsters' Monitors' motion to remove him from the union's presidency.

If superstitious is not the word for Hoffa, power is. And what Nov. 13 does is to hit him in his power — won over two decades by his ability to lend other union chiefs strength on a picket line. This is how Jimmy grew.

FOR EXAMPLE, he was able to make himself a little giant among Teamsters in the South and Southwest with a simple technique. He could assure them that non-union truck drivers, hauling costly cargo over-the-road from the deep South or Southwest, could not unload in any Central state. Here's how it would work:

Hoffa's office would get a call from a Southern Teamsters leader. The caller would say that the Interplanetary and Inner Space Trucking Corp. was sending a huge van load of material to the Outer Space Warehouse in Detroit.

The Southern unionist would tell Hoffa that he was dispatching two pickets to Detroit to pace outside the Outer Space Warehouse — a storage depot unionized by Hoffa's Detroit Teamsters.

Hoffa would say okay. His men would not unload that non-union truck when it arrived. It was dead storage on wheels. Its drivers either had to sign up with the Southern Teamsters local or trundle the cargo thousands of miles back to the shipper in Texas.

TAKE ANOTHER CASE. A non-union trucking company has a license from the Interstate Commerce Commission to run big vans over-the-road from, say, New Orleans to Chicago. Frequently that shipper also got a contract to haul stuff into New York.

So the non-union trucker would send the van to Chicago.

There the front "cab" — in which the driver sits over the wheel and which simply hooks onto the storage part of the van — would be uncoupled.

Another firm would agree, for a fee, to attach its motor to the van and haul it from Chicago to New York. The second firm could do that because it had a license to run that highway.

But the Chicago - New York trucker was unionized by Jimmy Hoffa's Central States combine of Teamster locals. And when a Southern Teamsters chief telephoned and said that the Louisiana trucking company was non-union Hoffa would say okay, no Northern company or driver would haul the van when it came to Chicago.

Thus Hoffa, through his central U.S. strength, became a power in the Teamsters long before he became president. He could always be counted on by Southern and Southwestern Teamsters officials to help them sign up local trucking companies.

IN EVERY CITY where Teamsters have any strength, there always has been a list of plants struck by other unions not affiliated with the truck union.

This list would be held by girls at the Teamsters locals' switchboards. When they got a call from a truck driver who said he had a shipment for such and such a plant but there was a picketline in front of it and what should he do, the girl would search the list.

Then she'd say, "Don't deliver. Respect the picket line." That's what gave the Teamsters their strength.

But after Friday, the 13th of November, all these practices are illegal under the hot cargo, secondary boycott and picketing regulations of the new law.

Where there's a law, there's a loophole. And where there's a loophole, Jimmy will find it. That's why he's been silent. He's looking.

All Eyes On China

By Jay Hayden

Foreign offices all around the world are watching avidly for signs of reaction by Nikita Khrushchev, now returning from Peiping to Moscow, to a clearly developing collision between the United States and Communist China respecting the recent peace initiative at Camp David.

This conflict first became clear when Secretary of State Herter went out of his way to discuss the Chinese impact on U. S.-Russian relations. No other topflight American official has done likewise, to the same extent, since Secretary of State Dean Acheson said, Jan. 12, 1950, that some day the Russians would have to reckon with "the righteous anger and wrath" of the Chinese people" for grabbing such northern China territories as Inner Mongolia and Sinkiang.

Asiatic people, Acheson then declared, will soon realize the predatory disposition of Russia if their attention is not distracted by such "ill-conceived adventures" as the U.S. occupation of Formosa.

In the following June occurred the communist attack on South Korea, which was tuned into a first-class war four months later by intervention on the Communist side of not Russia but China.

The Truman administration, with Acheson still its secretary of state, meanwhile had sent the Seventh Fleet to guard Formosa against Chinese attack.

IN CONTRAST with Mr. Acheson's declaration, Secretary Herter's pronouncement is mild and objective.

Replying to a question concerning developments in Peiping, he said he could see "no visible easing in tensions as between Chinese Communism and ourselves. They repeat their statements with respect to Taiwan (Formosa)."

But Mr. Herter added quickly: "With respect to Mr. Khrushchev's handling of himself in Peiping there are things of very great interest. There was no question that he talked quite eloquently with respect to the solution of international problems by peaceful means. . . . He clearly was not speaking for the Communist Chinese at that point.

"Perhaps equally interesting was the fact that Mr. Mao never made any statement at all, either on Mr. Khrushchev's arrival or on his departure. . . . These matters naturally are difficult to evaluate but they would seem to indicate that perhaps Mr. Khrushchev and the soviet government of Russia are taking a very different line from the point of view of the solution of international problems from that of the Communist Chinese."

Peiping lost no time in slapping back. A Chinese Communist radio quoted Chu Teh, vice chairman of the Chinese Communist Central Committee, as declaring that Herter's utterance "further proves that those high - sounding phrases about peace and thawing of the ice of the 'cold war' are nothing but a cloak to cover their (American) efforts to create tensions."

MR. HERTER may have spoken out of turn, as Mr. Acheson undoubtedly did in 1950. But in the intervening nine years, American officials have become much more circumspect in dealing with Communists.

Mr. Dulles, in his time, carefully avoided anything that could be construed as an attempt to split Russia from China and it is wholly inconceivable that Mr. Herter would have ventured an opinion indicative of Russian - Chinese divergence without important supporting information.

Since the unsuccessful attempt to seize Quemoy and Matsu in mid-1958, the Chinese have been overreaching Russia in militancy. About that same time Mr. Khrushchev backed out of the summit conference to discuss U. S. British landings in Lebanon and Jordan, which he himself had instigated.

The reason for this withdrawal apparently was objection by China to any such meeting without its participation.

Similarly, the Peiping government increasingly has attacked the governments of Yugoslavia and Egypt just when the Kremlin appeared to be playing up to the rulers of those countries.

Both Khrushchev and his chief aid, Anastas Mikoyan, have warned against authoritarian excesses in the new Chinese communes.

One suggestion is that China is setting the stage for claim to a seat in the summit conference now projected.

Taxpayers Penalized

By David Lawrence

Politics Interferes With Treasury Moves

Few people are noticing it—largely because it's difficult for them to get the facts—but the taxpayers of America are suffering a huge financial loss. More of their tax money will have to be used as a result of the failure of the politicians of the Democratic party in the last session of Congress to permit the government to sell its long - term bonds at a higher rate of interest than 4¼ per cent.

David Lawrence

This is one of the catastrophes of the century. Nothing like it has ever been perpetrated before by the politicians of either party. It's a deliberate interference with the financing of the national debt by the government.

The Democratic National Committee, anticipating the criticism that is bound to ensue, has issued through its advisory committee a statement declaring that the latest offering by the Treasury of 4-year 10-month notes at an interest rate of 5 per cent is a "bankers bonus" and that the notes would be bought largely by bankers.

IT TURNS OUT that the general public and buyers outside of financial houses came flocking to the Treasury to buy the new issue.

The non-institutional buyers gobbled up the bonds and asked for more. They recognized that it was a good purchase and lots of the buyers sold other things in order to obtain the money to get in on a good investment.

The tragic fact is that the Treasury could have sold a 10-year bond at 4½ per cent interest rate if the Congress had only authorized the Treasury to use its own descretion in meeting the "market."

What the politicians have done by their blundering interference with the Treasury is to compel the government to concentrate on issues of securities that are to mature in less than five years.

This means that the government will have to pay higher and higher rates to refund or refinance in the next 12 months some 76 billion dollars of short term securities outstanding.

Certainly this is going to cost the government more and more. The Democratic party's advisory committee is right in claiming that this will in turn influence other interest rates on house purchases and other long-term buying. But this wouldn't have happened if the government had been allowed to finance its debt in a natural way.

Actually, the Treasury is being forced to interefere in the realm of borrowing where consumers and small businessmen need credit. The government thus absorbs short term funds that otherwise would be available to private borrowers at lower interest rates.

The handling of the Treasury's problem of refunding indebtedness as it matures is a stupendous task and always requires disinterested and non-political persons to determine the prices at which securities will be offered so as to attract buyers. But their hands are tied now.

THE MOMENT the politicians step in, the risks can be great and the consequences to the credit structure can be serious.

If the Congress had not yielded to the unsound doctrines of a few in its low interest zealots, who thought they saw an advantageous issue politically in putting a ceiling on interest rates, the Treasury could gradually have reduced the amount of short term debt that has been growing in quantity in recent years and could have put much of the borrowing on a longer and longer term basis.

This would have stabilized the entire structure of interest rates in the United States and held inflation in check. It would have strengthened the dollar in world markets.

The crisis in interest rates is not confined to America. The Canadian government is selling securities at 6 per cent and recently England had a 7 per cent borrowing rate at the banks.

With such conditions internationally, it was a grave mistake for Congress to put the Treasury of the United States in a straitjacket.

There has been some talk about a special session of Congress being called to remedy the mistake made by the Democrats in refusing to accede to President Eisenhower's request for the power to set the interest above 4¼ per cent on long term bonds.

Certainly in January the American people will have a clearer idea of the damage that has been done and will then demand action.

It will do the Democrats no good to cry out that the administration is boosting interest rates "to help the bankers." The impression building up now is that the Democrats are irresponsible and cannot be entrusted with the reins of government in 1961.

The bungling of the interest rate problem has done more to hurt the prestige of the Democratic party than being charged with excessive spending and an unbalanced budget.

The voters don't like to see politicians imposing their will without regard to what interest rate would or would not attract the average man to buy government bonds.

Moscow Is Big Boss

By William L. Ryan

Moscow, say the Red Chinese loudly and clearly, is the big boss.

Peiping's Communist party has gone out of its way to emphasize that the Soviet Union is the undisputed leader of the world Communist movement.

The remarkable performance more than justifies the expressed conviction of Secretary of State Christian A. Herter that the Kremlin is responsible for the actions of China and the whole Red bloc. It underscores Undersecretary Douglas Dillon's contention that the U.S.S.R. should be held responsible for any Peiping aggression.

If there are differences on the ideological or the strategy level between Moscow and Peiping, the Chinese party seems to have burled them in an extravagant bow to Moscow's unquestioned leadership.

As if to dispel any notions among the world's Communists of a Kremlin-Peiping rift, the most important Red Chinese newspaper, the Peiping People's Daily, has just published an editorial important enough to be chorused by the whole country's provincial press. Its theme also was broadcast in foreign languages.

It was not a long editorial. But no less than eight times it stated unequivocally that in matters of the world revolution and the strategy of the revolution, the Soviet leaders were the bosses.

Here are pertinent excerpts:

"China has become a component of the Socialist camp headed by the Soviet Union."

"The entire Socialist camp, headed by the Soviet Union, has grown in strength and closer unity with each passing day."

"In the past 10 years, the great unity of the Socialist camp, headed by the Soviet Union, has made tremendous contributions to safeguarding world peace and in socialist (by which the Reds mean Communist) undertakings."

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's recent disarmament proposal "clearly illustrates that the Socialist camp, headed by the Soviet Union, is the strong pillar of peace."

"The Chinese people have always regarded it as their sacred international duty continuously to consolidate and develop the solidarity of the Socialist camp headed by the Soviet Union."

"Today the Socialist camp, headed by the Soviet Union, is more united and stronger than ever."

Red China will "promote the unity of the Socialist camp headed by the Soviet Union."

And the last line of the editorial: Long live the great solidarity of Socialist countries headed by the Soviet Union!"

The Chinese Communists hardly could make their meaning clearer.

10 Poodles Dognaped Are Home Safely

MINEOLA, N.Y. (AP) — Ten tiny, four-legged victims of a $5,000 ransom plot were back home today, leading a dog's life.

Underweight, ragged and weary the prize toy poodles—dognaped from their owner Sept. 15 — devoured hound-sized portions of beef, biscuits, dried milk and wheat germ.

The little canine puffballs are valued at a total of $25,000 which accounts for their theft from the kennels of Mrs. Leicester Harrison, a dog breeder at nearby Massapequa.

Four women, including a former employe at the kennels, are charged with the dognaping.

Mrs. Harrison said the dogs were taken while she was ill at a hospital. She reported she got a telephone call a few days ago demanding ransom. She said she recognized the voice as that of Belle D. Joseph, 28, who formerly worked as a groom for the dogs at dog shows.

The poodles were rounded up over the weekend, some from homes of the women, some from homes of relatives or friends. The last was picked up as he limped forlornly along a Long Island expressway.

Wilmington College Must Look For New President

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — Trustees of Wilmington College must look again for a new president. The Quaker group that operates the school has decided against the trustees' nominee.

The decision by the Permanent Board of the Wilmington Yearly Meeting was reported Sunday night by Richard A. Haines, board clerk.

He said the board wants an early meeting with trustees on the problem.

He said a joint committee of board members and trustees is to pick a nominee for president, to be approved by both groups.

Trustees last spring had picked as president G. Richard Gottschalk of Syracuse, N.Y., a management consultant with wide education and business interests in central New York.

Haines said the board conferred with Gottschalk weekend before last, then talked over his qualifications last Thursday.

He said the board decided on a resolution that read, in part:

"It has been through an agonizing appraisal that our Permanent Board has reached a decision on the candidacy of Richard Gottschalk for the presidency of the college. . . .

"We were impressed with his sincerity and earnestness, his very apparent worth and capabilities as a person. In our searching of ourselves and our hearts, however, we have concluded that he could not now because of his particularized background fill the image we feel it both necessary and vital that the president of our Quaker college fill.

"It is our deep feeling that the president of such a college is the focus for the students, the faculty, the alumni and the community. . . .

"He must of course be equipped with the tools of learning and with a deep reservoir of that wisdom and love which is of the Power in which we all may share. . . .

"It is our feeling then that the business career of Richard Gottschalk—as capably as he has conducted it, and as necessary a service as it has been—is nevertheless in background not of the image we feel imperative in such a presidency."

Gottschalk, who is not a Quaker, had left for his Syracuse home last Monday after failing to take over the president's post as expected Oct. 1.

He said he believes he "can contribute something to a wonderful college" but that a major problem exists—"the question of sectarian or non-sectarian administrative policies."

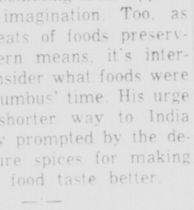
Gottschalk is president of the Syracuse Board of Education, and in addition to the management consultant business, owns and operates several firms and is a director of six corporations in central New York.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY MEYERS

Life Of Columbus Is Interesting Topic

With children of school age, the life of Columbus can make a good topic of conversation at mealtime. His great adventures, his struggles to get financial aid for his enterprise, the little that was known then of the world, the kind of person Columbus was, his twelve - year-old son, Diego, who watched his father's ships disappear, Diego's four-year-old brother who later wrote nearly all that's known about Columbus — all are fascinating facts appealing to the imagination. Too, as the family eats of foods preserved by modern means, it's interesting to consider what foods were eated in Columbus' time. His urge to find a shorter way to India was strongly prompted by the desire to secure spices for making poorly kept food taste better.



By Garry Meyers

ABOUT PROVISIONING a ship, Columbus wrote:

"The third part of (the breadstuff to be) good biscuit, well seasoned and not old or the major part will be wasted; a third part of salted flour, salted at the time of milling; and a third part of wheat.

"Further, there will be wanted salt, meat, oil, vinegar, cheese, chickpeas, lentils, beans, salt fish and fishing tackle, honey, rice, almonds and raisins."

They had no tea or coffee as these drinks had not been introduced into Europe.

On the three sailing ships, "Nina," "Pinta" and "Santa Maria," which made the voyage, there were, altogether, 88 men. None of them was old, some of them mere boys in their teens.

The men were not provided with clothing. Except for their red woolen stocking caps, there was no distinctive dress. They wore anything they had. Everyone went barefoot and let his beard grow.

COLUMBUS WAS 42 years old when he discovered America, 467 years ago. He was 55 when he died, not knowing he had discovered a new world. He thought it was India.

Columbus was a well-built man of more than average height but "neither fat nor thin." He had a hooknose, blue eyes, light reddish complexion, and red hair and beard that had turned gray when he was 30.

He was a very religious man. When he had to write anything, he would begin by writing these words, "Jesus and Mary be with us on the way."

He faithfully observed the laws of his church, confessed and made communion often. His greatest wish in making the first voyage seemed to be that he might convert the people of India to Christianity.

Parents also might have good times talking with their children about the adventures of the Vikings of Norway, the first white men to see America about 500 years before Columbus did. Wonderful if, from what they have learned at school about Columbus and the Vikings, the children are able to contribute richly to the family conversation.

"It has been through an agonizing appraisal that our Permanent Board has reached a decision on the candidacy of Richard Gottschalk for the presidency of the college. . .

"We were impressed with his sincerity and earnestness, his very apparent worth and capabilities as a person. In our searching of ourselves and our hearts, however, we have concluded that he could not now because of his particularized background fill the image we feel it both necessary and vital that the president of our Quaker college fill.

"It is our deep feeling that the president of such a college is the focus for the students, the faculty, the alumni and the community. . . .

"He must of course be equipped with the tools of learning and with a deep reservoir of that wisdom and love which is of the Power in which we all may share. . . .

"It is our feeling then that the business career of Richard Gottschalk—as capably as he has conducted it, and as necessary a service as it has been—is nevertheless in background not of the image we feel imperative in such a presidency."

Gottschalk, who is not a Quaker, had left for his Syracuse home last Monday after failing to take over the president's post as expected Oct. 1.

He said he believes he "can contribute something to a wonderful college" but that a major problem exists—"the question of sectarian or non-sectarian administrative policies."

Gottschalk is president of the Syracuse Board of Education, and in addition to the management consultant business, owns and operates several firms and is a director of six corporations in central New York.

Bringing Up A Family

Life Of Columbus Is Interesting Topic

With children of school age, the life of Columbus can make a good topic of conversation at mealtime. His great adventures, his struggles to get financial aid for his enterprise, the little that was known then of the world, the kind of person Columbus was, his twelve - year-old son, Diego, who watched his father's ships disappear, Diego's four-year-old brother who later wrote nearly all that's known about Columbus — all are fascinating facts appealing to the imagination. Too, as the family eats of foods preserved by modern means, it's interesting to consider what foods were eated in Columbus' time. His urge to find a shorter way to India was strongly prompted by the desire to secure spices for making poorly kept food taste better.

By Garry Meyers

ABOUT PROVISIONING a ship, Columbus wrote:

"The third part of (the breadstuff to be) good biscuit, well seasoned and not old or the major part will be wasted; a third part of salted flour, salted at the time of milling; and a third part of wheat.

"Further, there will be wanted salt, meat, oil, vinegar, cheese, chickpeas, lentils, beans salt fish and fishing tackle, honey, rice, almonds and raisins."

They had no tea or coffee as these drinks had not been introduced into Europe.

On the three sailing ships, "Nina," "Pinta" and "Santa Maria," which made the voyage, there were, altogether, 88 men. None of them was old; some of them mere boys in their teens.

The men were not provided with clothing. Except for their red woolen stocking caps, there was no distinctive dress. They wore anything they had. Everyone went barefoot and let his beard grow.

COLUMBUS WAS 42 years old when he discovered America, 467 years ago. He was 55 when he died, not knowing he had discovered a new world. He thought it was India.

Columbus was a well-built man of more than average height but "neither fat nor thin." He had a hooknose, blue eyes, light reddish complexion, and red hair and beard that had turned gray when he was 30.

He was a very religious man. When he had to write anything, he would begin by writing these words, "Jesus and Mary be with us on the way."

He faithfully observed the laws of his church, confessed and made communion often. His greatest wish in making the first voyage seemed to be that he might convert the people of India to Christianity.

Parents also might have good times talking with their children about the adventures of the Vikings of Norway, the first white men to see America about 500 years before Columbus did. Wonderful if, from what they have learned at school about Columbus and the Vikings, the children are able to contribute richly to the family conversation.

The new locks, 1,200 feet long, will replace the present 600-foot locks, where large tows now must be "broken", slowing traffic.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio colleges and universities are getting about 1½ million dollars this school year from the federal government to loan to students for school expenses under the Defense Education Act.

That, says the Office of Education, is 90 per cent of the amount they applied for.

Weight Control Brought Up To Date

Each year your dietitian comes home from the annual meeting of the American Dietetic Association challenged afresh to bring you the newest findings in nutrition.

Ida Jean Kain

Dr. Samuel Soskin of the University of California talked at the weight control session on "Newer Findings in Metabolism." "The public's preoccupation with weight control is justified — but to look at the so-called weight charts and say that a person is ten pounds overweight is absurd," he declared.

Not everyone who is overweight according to the charts possesses the same degree of fatness, he explained. One of the best criteria of normal weight, in the opinion of this authority, is whether the individual is in good health and has maintained that weight for a long period of time.

OVERWEIGHT COMES when we eat more calories in the form of food than we expend in all forms of energy. In some few cases, overweight is due to a glandular deficiency.

But even in these cases, the doctor emphasized, the balance between food intake and energy expenditure still determines whether or not a person loses weight. "It's the excess weight that causes the metabolic disturbance, rather than the reverse," this authority asserted.

What about heridity? If there is an endocrine pattern that is inherited, it may be a factor, he pointed out, but added, "More often than not, it is the eating pattern that is established which is the cause of the overweight."

While it is known that overweight hastens the onset of the degenerative diseases, just why this is true is not clearly known. By way of conjecture, Dr. Soskin suggested that the hazards of overweight may stem from the fact that an excess of one food stuff may lead to a deficiency of another.

For example, an excess of saturated fats in the diet may precipitate a pyridoxine (Vitamin B6) deficiency which interferes with protein synthesis and, in turn, may lead to atherosclerosis, the heart condition about which so much is heard today.

In his opinion, the amount of food a person eats is largely determine by habit. Scoring faddy diets, Dr. Soskin said, "You are not going to change that habit by following a fad diet for a few weeks.

"Fad diets will reduce if you are just thinking of immediate results. What is wrong with them is just what is wrong with appetite curbers and any medication to depress the appetite — results are not permanent," he said emphatically.

ADVISING AGAINST the practice of see-saw reducing, he stated: "There is probably more harm in losing and regaining and thus disturbing the metabolic balance than there is in staying fat."

In summing up, he gave these two basic rules for reducing: (1) Lose weight on the same type of diet that every healthy person should eat, but with fewer calories. (2) Lose slowly — slowly enough to fix the new food habits.

Send a long, stamped, self - addressed envelope for "Mr. And Mrs. Reducing Plan." Address you request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests can not be answered.

Would Look If Picked, Sen. Johnson Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas says he "would have to take a look at it" if the Democratic national convention nominated him for president in 1960.

State DAV Head Will Be At Local Post Wednesday

W. S. BARTLOW

Guest For Opening Meeting.

William S. Bartlow of Shadyside, state commander of the Disabled American Veterans, will address an open meeting Wednesday at 8:15 p. m. at the DAV Home, 415 Market St.

Paul L. Brand, commander, announced the meeting is open to all veterans. Questions on individual claims will be answered following the meeting, he added.

Bartlow served in the Army during World War II and entered combat with a gun squadron of the 7th Armored Division. Wounded in the right wrist by shrapnel, he refused hospitalization to stay with his outfit, but was wounded again, losing his right hand, index finger on his left hand, loss of vision in his right eye, head injury and frozen feet.

Leetonia To Get Check For Damage In Flood

SALEM — A check for $645 as partial payment of federal aid for Leetonia as a result of flood damage in the community in January is to be presented to officials of the village Tuesday, William Wark of Salem, county Civil Defense director, announced today.

The payment is the first made in the county this year.

The CD is the administrator of the federal disaster aid funds authorized for southeastern Ohio by President Dwight Eisenhower when a state emergency was proclaimed by the president and Gov. Michael DiSalle.

The funds are used for areas which suffered more than normal damage in the floods. Other areas in the county are due to receive funds later, including East Liverpool, Wark said.

Mrs. FDR Observed 75th Birthday Sunday

HYDE PARK, N.Y. (AP) — Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt says she would have been just as happy if nobody had noticed her 75th birthday Sunday.

The phone rang so much with congratulatory telegrams and cablegrams that her secretary finally asked that they be sent by mail.

drivers on Route 39 about two miles west of Highlandtown Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Sarah B. McCartney, 1027 Anderson Ave., Wellsville, was treated by a Wellsville physician for cuts of the nose and cheek and bruises of the body suffered in the crash.

The patrol said George W. McCartney, 68, husband of the injured woman, was driving west on Route 39, followed by George Headley, 71, of 501 11th St., Wellsville.

As the two autos were rounding a curve, a third auto, headed east and left of center, struck McCartney's 1957 sedan on the left side, forced Headley's auto off the roadway and continued without stopping. Loshuk later was identified as the driver.

Headley's 1953 car veered along the berm, then crossed the road and hit the embankment on the south side, officers said.

McCartney's auto received about $250 damage, Headley's about $50 damage and Loshuk's 1956 coupe about $250 damage. Loshuk, also charged with driving left of center, is slated for a hearing Tuesday before Mayor William Shoub of Wellsville.

The old-fashioned way with gravy was to use browned flour for thickening. Result: good color and flavor. To brown flour stir it in a skillet over low heat until a dark golden color. Flour prepared this way has less thickening power than a corresponding amount of regular flour.

Home Buyers Regret Lure Of Gadgets

Speculative builders have been known to advertise houses which are so full of attractive gadgets that the prospective purchaser overlooks the important points such as solid construction and established neighborhoods.

After living in the house for a few month, the purchaser starts to regret the influence the gadgets had upon him, and wishes that he had a fireplace instead of the cupola on the garage roof and a tub enclosure of glass in the bathroom.

One of the most talked about things in the speculative houses is the knotty-pine paneled play room or whoopee-room in the basement. These appear to be almost an essential today, and while they may be very nice to have and be a good place to put the children on a rainy day, they may develop into a real headache.

Covering the walls of a basement is something that should be regarded with great caution. Almost all experienced homeowners know that dampness in a cellar or basement is not unusual. If the foundation walls are inclined to sweat from condensation and the walls are exposed, the dampness has a chance to evaporate off during clear and dry weather.

If the walls are covered with paneling, the dampness stays a long time and results in the breeding of water-bugs and all other kinds of vermin. If the basement walls admit water through them the condition is even worse and results in a dank ordor which goes right through the house.

No basement wall should be sheathed in with anything unless it is absolutely dry. If you do have covered basement walls it might be an excellent idea to provide openings at top and bottom of the penaling at frequent intervals so that air can circulate behind it.

Booklet Gives Hints On Upkeep Of Home

If you are a conscientious person who respects possessions, you probably are interested in ways and means for keeping your own home in top shape throughout the year.

You'd be surprised how a monthly touch-up day will save you needless expense and time on repair bills and large jobs that could have been avoided. The National Paint, Varnish & Lacquer Association has a booklet, Keeping Your House In The . . . Pink, that gives you suggestions about household checks and touch-up jobs that will eliminate costly repairs later.

Send your name, address, and request to the Association at 1500 Rhode Island Ave., N.W., Washington 5, D.C., for a free copy.

Home Painting Tip

For neat and "professional" looking paint jobs use masking tape to hug curves and irregular surfaces on window panes, areas around woodwork and the like. The paint won't bleed through, and when it has set, your tape pulls off easily leaving a clean sharp edge.

PUGHTOWN'S NEW SCHOOL. The doors of this modern, $345,000 new school at Pughtown are expected to swing open early in December for pupils now attending an outdated, two-room building. One of 18 school buildings in the Hancock County system, the new building has 14 rooms complete with new furniture and equipment. Construction began early this summer and workmen are proceeding at a rapid pace, with only interior finishing and outside grading and paving to be completed. This view shows the main entrance at the far left, with one section constructed of multi-colored brick. The Harry Truschel Construction Co. of Weirton is the principal contractor of the building, while plumbing and heating contracts were let by the Board of Education to the Hall Plumbing & Heating Co. of East Liverpool. Fuccy Hauling & Excavating of New Cumberland was contracted for outside paving and grading. Funds for construction of the building came from the passage in May 1958 of a $1 million bond issue in a special election.

Publishers' Offer Averts Strike Vote

CINCINNATI (AP)—A last-ditch offer by publishers of Cincinnati's two daily newspapers has averted a planned strike vote by union printers.

Members of the International Typographical Union approved a new two-year contract Sunday by a 396-74 vote.

A strike would have shut down the morning Cincinnati Enquirer and afternoon Post & Times-Star.

James G. Bentley, federal mediator, had called both sides to a conference Saturday night and the new proposal was hammered out there.

The contract is retroactive to last April 15 when the printers' old agreement ran out, and like the old one is based on a 37½-hour work week.

It calls for a $4 weekly pay increase for the first year of the contract, $3 more weekly starting April 15, 1960, and an added $2 weekly beginning Oct. 15, 1960.

The printers also will get paid holidays on July Fourth, Thanksgiving and New Year's Day.

Journeymen printers under the old contract earned $118.50 for a day shift and $123.50 for night work, and had paid holidays on Christmas, Labor Day and Memorial Day.

Officials of Local 3 here said the printers were ready to strike immediately, had a walkout been voted Sunday.

Armco Plans Addition To Research Building

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Armco Steel Corp. announced plans today to spend $3,500,000 doubling the size of its main research building here.

R. L. Gray, Armco president, said, "we know the rapid advances in technology taking place today will make our present products obsolete within 10 years.

"To keep ahead, we must continue to produce new steels and new steel-making processes."

The addition will boost the size of the research building to 113,000 square feet of floor space. The addition is earmarked for completion early in 1961.

Disposable Funnel

You can easily eliminate having to coat your metal funnel with paint when pouring from one container into another if you use cone-shaped paper cups. Keep a supply where you do your painting for pouring paint, oils, varnish and other liquids. Cut off the end so that the paint will pour through, throw out the cups after use.

Here Are Basic Facts

Use Light Test In Picking Colors For Home Interiors

Color plays an important part in everyday living, especially in the comfort and usability of our homes. The greatest single use of color in the home — the painted wall — can achieve wonders in a home large or small if you know a few basics about color before you begin to decorate, according to the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association.

Whatever colors you finally decide on, remember this important point — color in large areas becomes intensified. Therefore, your small paint samples and fabric swatches should be lighter than the final result you expect to achieve. Also, colors change under artificial light, so examine all samples in daylight and night light—both incandescent and fluorescent, if you have both.

Colors are relative and for best results should be seen together. Using a large sheet of paper as a background for your paint samples is helpful for studying the effect colors have on each other.

The ability of color to reflect light varies tremendously. White will reflect the most — about 85 per cent — but a room painted all in white is too hospital-like. Better — and easier to live with — are the light pastel tints which reflect a sufficient amount of light and are more interesting than white. Light green, for instance, will reflect about 50 per cent of the light that hits it whereas a deep brown reflects only about 5 per cent. Ceilings are especially important from a reflection standpoint; they should be painted white or a pale tint of the wall color.

Although it isn't necessary to understand all the technical background of color, it is a big help to know the meanings of some of the common terms. Hue is used interchangeably with color although it actually refers to a family of colors — pink is a red hue, mauve is a purple hue. The tint of a color is created by adding white to make the color lighter.

A shade is obtained by adding black to a color to make it darker. Tone is when both black and white — grey — is added to a color to make it more subtle or muted. When you speak of a value of a color, you mean its darkess or lightness. Chroma relates to the amount of grayness, in other words the relative pureness of a hue.

Colors can be divided into three categories — warm, cool and neutral. These categories have been tested and proven to be valid by psychologists. Warm colors are the red and yellow hues and their relatives, such as yellow-green, yellow-orange and red-orange. Because these colors appear warm-looking to the eye they are best used in rooms that face east or north. Warm colors make rooms appear smaller but they also have a unifying quality which makes them necessary in some degree in every room.

Cool colors are the blue and purple family and the blue - greens. These are not only cool colors but colors that tend to increase the size of a room. Cool colors are best suited to rooms that face south or west. Pure greens and red-purples are considered neutral — neither cool nor warm.

A well-decorated room uses both warm and cool colors, both dark and light hues.

Housing Designs Award Plan Expanded To National Scope

For the first time, the 1960 Homes For Better Living Awards Program, sponsored by the American Institute of Architects, in cooperation with House & Home and Life magazines, will be expanded from a regional to a national affair to include all 50 states.

The four previous annual judgings were confined to West Coast, East Coast, Midwest, and South entires, on an area basis.

Any house designed by a registered architect and completed since Jan. 1, 1957, is eligible. Custom-built houses and houses built for sale are judged in separate categories.

Said AIA President John Noble Richards of Toledo:

"Though the four regional programs were very successful, attracting more than a thousand entries, it meant that we could not get back to see any region's outstanding houses for four years.

"Since the purpose of the awards is the encouragement of good design and sound construction in homebuilding, we feel that a single annual national program will keep us abreast of the country's finest houses as rapidly as they are designed and built.

"In addition," continued Richards, "a national program will draw entries from our two newest states, Hawaii and Alaska, neither of which was eligible to submit entries in the past."

All houses entered will be judged by a panel of nationally known architects of varying design philosophies, housing industry leaders, and the editors of Life and House & Home. Announcement of award winners will be made at the annual AIA convention in San Francisco April 18-22, 1960.

The institute announced that an entry slip must be received by Jan. 15, 1960, with final deadline for submission of photographs and other entry material on Feb. 12. Entries may be made by architect, builder, or homeowner of any house eligible for consideration.

Some Queries With Answers On Building

By ANDY LANG

AP Newsfeatures

Question: We plan on adding a porch over a concrete patio, using the rear wall of the house for the back of the porch. How should the rear plate be attached to the house, which is made of wood?

Answer: The rear plate, which will support the rafters of the new roof, must be securely attached to the house studs. This can be done with large, strong nails or, even better, with lag screws. If lag screws are used, place large washers under their heads.

Question: We recently bought a marble - topped coffee table. A neighbor tells us that stains sometimes cannot be removed from marble. If this is so, can you tell us whether there is any sealer we can put on the marble to prevent staining?

Answer: While most stains can be removed from marble with a commercial stain remover, there are some (such as lemon juice) that can mar it permanently. Ask your hardware or paint dealer for a sealer made especially for marble. It is not stocked everywhere, but the dealer should be able to get it for you if he does not have it. Meanwhile, you can avoid even the possibility of staining the marble by wiping up any liquid the moment it is spilled.

Question: I'm making a bookcase and intend to buy wrought iron legs for it. Should the wrought iron be given a coat of black paint or clear varnish?

Answer: Not if you are looking for the dullish finish usually associated with wrought iron. But if a glossy black finish is desired—perhaps to match other furniture in the same room — then a metal paint can be used effectively.

Cleveland Man Captured After Escaping Jail

CLEVELAND (AP) — A Cleveland man was captured early today about 90 minutes after escaping from his jail cell in suburban Strongsville by crawling through a ventilator and fleeing in a police car.

Raneis Andujar, 29, a chef's assistant who came here from Puerto Rico last April, was taken by two Berea patrolmen as he walked along a street about three miles from the Strongsville jail. It ended a hunt by about 80 lawmen in nine communities.

The police car he had taken, equipped with a shotgun and ammunition, was found behind a nearby motel. Police said the gun was locked in a rack in the car and Andujar could not work it loose.

Andujar, arrested Saturday afternoon, was being held for Brook Park police for questioning about an assault Friday.

Former Child Actor Jailed On Dope Count

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Bobby Driscoll, 22, who won a special Academy Award 10 years ago as a child actor, was jailed Sunday on a narcotics booking. He gave his occupation as "unemployed."

Narcotics officers arrested Driscoll, William Bradley, 21, and William Kimbeley, 21, on a Los Angeles sidewalk. Detectives said Driscoll was carrying a hypodermic kit and Bradley a quantity of codeine tablets.

Developer Of A-Bomb Seen 'Doing Very Well'

ST. LOUIS, (AP)—Dr. Arthur H. Compton, one of the developers of the atomic bomb, "spent a good Sunday and is doing very well, officials of Barnes Hospital said.

Dr. Compton was flown to St. Louis Friday after fainting at his summer home near Gaylord, Mich.

Bark on California's giant Sequoia trees sometimes grows two feet thick.

2 Ohio Men Rescued By Coast Guardman

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A Coast Guardsman Sunday rescued two Springfield men whose boat sank in Lake Erie near here.

Arthur Edwards, 45, and Edwin L. Wiegel, 57, were pulled from the water about three miles off shore by Ralph L. Rafferty, who joined the Coast Guard last year in Springfield.

They said they were fishing about nine miles out when wind began whipping up waves and their boat sank as they reached a breakwater about six miles from shore.

The Coast Guard was notified of the men's plight by a passing freighter.

Removing Caulking

Surplus caulking compound can be easily removed by using a small paint brush and a solvent. Benzene or turpentine are the best solvents for this purpose.

Family Room Seen Popular In Wintertime

Even if you're not a winter sports enthusiast, snowtime can be a very pleasant part of the year if you can spend it by a cheery hearthside. For most folks, this means the family room, that spot in the house where comfy clothing and utter relaxation reign supreme.

The popularity of the family room as a specialized place to unwind stems in large part from the fact that it has been designed with just that purpose in mind. Neither a messy catch - all room nor a formalized library, today's home recreation center has built-in coziness which caters to both family fun and individual relaxation.

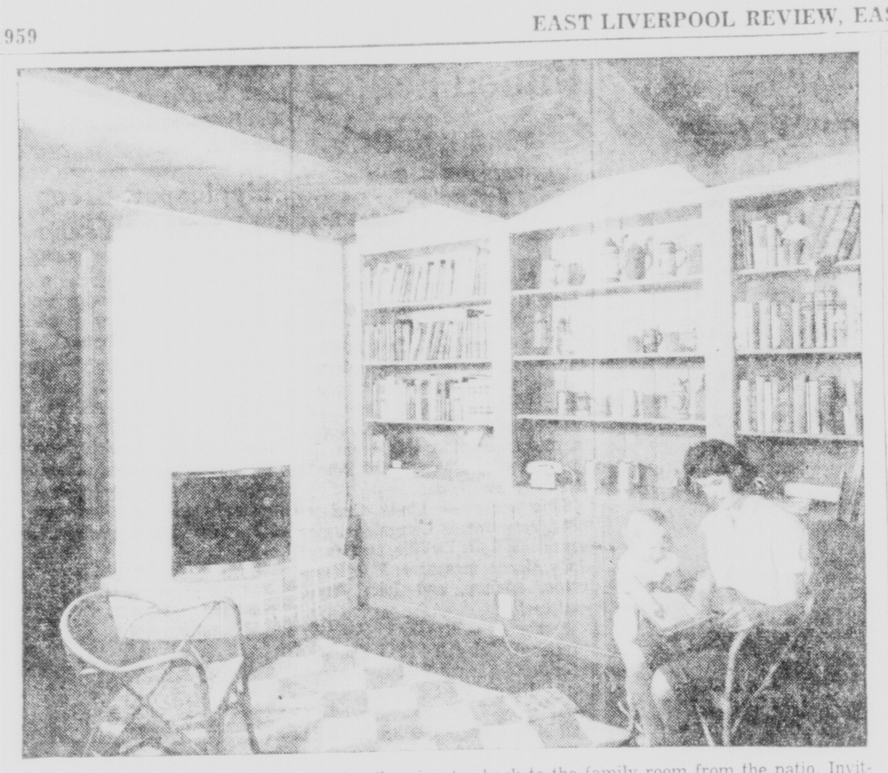
The focal point in many a family room is the fireplace corner. Varied in style from common brick to glazed tile, the fireplace is often flanked by bookshelves, for glowing firelight and a good book seem to go hand in hand.

This nook becomes the decorative pace setter for the rest of the room since much of the room's character is derived from the styling of the bookshelves.

A contemporary flavor is brought out when shelving is hung, in suspended manner, on a wall paneled in one of the sleek, golden shaded softwoods like Douglas fir or west coast hemlock. Here, a clear finish, which captures the wood's natural coloring and interesting grain pattern, is in the modern mode.

A colonial atmosphere comes to the fore when bookshelves are recessed in the wall in the more traditional bookcase style. Though beloved volumes are still set against a background of friendly wood, the fir or hemlock paneling is often stained or painted.

Almost always bookshelves are built in conjunction with cabinets which form the lower half of the wall. Here, cluttery items like monopoly boards and bridge tables, or even fireplace wood, can be kept out of sight, yet within an easy arm's reach.



WHEN THE AIR TURNS CHILL, the family migrates back to the family room from the patio. Inviting atmosphere of this cozy den is a combination of warm wood interior and interesting tiled fireplace. Built-in bookshelves and cabinets, as well as wall paneling and ceiling decking, are of Douglas fir, painted pale moss to suit the family's taste.

Note To Builders: Less 'Scenery,' More Closets

Wife who is too watchful of husband is likely to wind up without a new house.

No, Confucius didn't say that. It's a bit of advice offered to builders in a trade paper, The Long Island Builder.

The tip goes like this: "Use hostesses on heavy traffic days, but use matronly types rather than glamor girls. Husbands keep their eyes on sexy young things; wives keep their eyes on the husbands; nobody sees the house."

This is a fascinating tidbit to file in your memory book under the heading: "Reasons why we don't own a house."

The builders may have a point. But we'll bet our last year's summer house that when a man gets to the point of parting with his savings, he's not going to worry about the come-on in the deal. And when his lady is that close to getting her own home she'll shut her eyes to the man's indescretions—until he puts his name on the house contract. (After that, watch out.)

There is no happier female in the world than a woman who is about to take on a house. She's in no mood for quibbling once she has a foot in the door. That's an accomplishment in itself.

The paper suggests among other sales techniques to charm the prospective buyer, the muted strains of radio or record player, coffee or soft drinks in the model house kitchen, a handy swing in the backyard to enchant children while parents ogle, something cooking on the stove to make the home smell good, shades drawn if the day is dark, doors open if the sun is shining.

It sounds homey, but we'll put our house money on the seller who shows more closet space than a woman can dream up (and if they're departmentalized so much the better) such important - to - women work savers as washing machine, dryer, dish washer, enough kitchen cabinets to house her collection of portable appliances, a fenced-in area for small fry, a small room for cogitating, sewing, ironing or reading, and if it's soundproof so much the better, a living room large or small that can be decorated for coziness, not broken up with windows, doors, stairscases all in the wrong places, a good lighting system, a pleasant terrace outdoors accessible to the kitchen.

Even the man with three thumbs will be impressed with a built-in workshop and an accessible spot for garden tool.

Another important consideration would be to turn off the "extras." There was a time when you could buy a house with the necessities of the moment, at the right price. But these days a woman is wooed with an attractive floor plan, she approves it, and then finds out all the features that she can't do without are above the asking price.

That goes for the extra bathroom, the fireplace, certain kitchen features, the shade tree on the front lawn, and perhaps even the garage.

Give these home seekers what they need, and you can call off the magic flutes, boys. All we're asking for in a house is one that keeps up with the times.

Hardboard Has Become Popular As Wallboard

If you have ever used hardboard, you know it as a tough material with one smooth, brownish-colored surface and one rough (usually-not-meant-to-be-seen) surface. Inexpensive, durable and easy to paint, it has become one of the most popular work-horse wallboards in recent years.

But somehow when you think of hardboard, you do not think of it as an ultra-decorative material. Yet beautiful interiors can be created with one of the newer varieties of this product, plastic-finished hardboard. As the name makes clear, it is hardboard covered with plastic. This plastic comes in many designs, the warmest being those which simulate wood-grained finishes.

The plank style plastic-finished hardboard has the edges tongued and grooved to aid in installation. It is a quarter of an inch thick and comes in planks 16 inches wide and eight feet long. Thus, three planks cover a 4x8 wall area. They are applied with clips and nails provided with the panels. A special adhesive also is used when a strong installation is desired.

Although these planks, or panels, can be applied directly to studs set 16 inches apart on center, it usually is better to use horizontal furring strips over the studs. That's because it is very rare when studs are absolutely straight and in line. The furring strips, one inch by two inches, should be applied 16 inches apart, with a four-inch width of furring at the floor. As we said, a special adhesive is put on the furring strips behind each plank for extra strength.

The adhesive, by the way, can be used in conjunction with the clips when the panels are installed over a solid wall. But this should not be attempted unless the wall is reasonably straight. Any high spots can be sanded down. When a wall is uneven, then the furring-strip method is necessary.

In all installations, whether over open studs or a solid wall, one-sixteenth of an inch should be allowed in all joints for expansion. A gauge of cardboard can be used for this spacing between planks.

It is not advisable to install plastic-finished wall paneling in damp areas, such as bathrooms. But they can be put up in high humidity locations if the planks are treated first. This is done by wetting the backs of the planks thoroughly with water. They should then be stacked back-to-back on a flat surface for 24 hours prior to use.

City Architect Enters Exhibit In New York

J. Nessly Porter, East Liverpool architect, is exhibiting residential architecture at the 1960 National Gold Medal Exhibition of the building arts sponsored by the Architectural League of New York.

Porter was one of those invited "for recognized achievement in the building arts."

The exhibition will continue through Feb. 17 at the Museum of Contemporary Arts in New York and then will tour the principal cities until August 1962.

Oil Executive Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Byrnes MacDonald, 51, a Sinclair Oil Co. executive and member of prominent New York family, died Saturday.

Actress' Knife Slayer Jailed

BRACKETTVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Investigators today blamed a tottering romance for the knife slaying of a personable young actress here on location to make a movie.

Blonde LaJean Ethridge, 26, from Hollywood, Calif., died with a hunting knife in her heart early Sunday. She had just packed to leave a house she shared with five men in her summer theater troupe.

Witnesses told County Atty. John J. Tobin she gasped "I love you" to the man who stabbed her before collapsing on the living room floor.

Sheriff John Sheedy jailed Chester Harvey Smith, 32, a slight 140-pounder from Hollywood on a murder charge. He was working as an extra in the film "The Alamo."

"She was getting a better part in the movie," Sheedy said, "and she was moving out on Smith and the others. He thought he was going to lose her."

Miss Ethridge, known professionally as LaJean Guye, and her company rented a house at Spofford, nine miles south of here, after landing jobs in the film being produced by actor John Wayne.

Justice of the Peace Albert Postell ordered Smith held without bond pending grand jury action on the murder charge.

Driver Fined, Jailed After Lisbon Mishap

LISBON — Donald L. Custer, 27, of Lisbon R. D. 3 was fined $150 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail at a hearing Saturday night before Mayor John Todd on a charge of driving while intoxicated. He was cited after he struck a parked car on W. Lincoln Way Friday night.

Three others forfeited bonds when they failed to appear for scheduled hearings. They were:

Arnold Eubank, 23, of Cleveland and John F. Hoffman, 19, of Vermillon, $10 each for crossing a yellow line, and Richard Cramer, 27, of North Ridgeville, $25 for no driver's license and $15 for crossing a yellow line. They were cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures will average 5 to 7 degrees below normal. Normal high 64 north to 67 south; normal low 44-45. Warmer Tuesday, cooler Wednesday through Friday, warmer Saturday. Precipitation will total about one-half inch in rain about Tuesday night and Wednesday and possibly again about Saturday.

Maiden name of Mother Eddy, founder of Christian Science, was Mary Ann Morse Baker.

How To Avoid Fall On Steps During Winter

If one were to refer to the insurance companies files on household accidents, he would discover that the front and rear steps of the average house account for a great many cases of broken legs, arms and hips during the winter season. Most of this is caused by plain slipping on wet, or ice or snow-covered steps.

The surest way to avoid these wintertime accidents is to have the steps equipped with a handrail if there is not one already there and to put some kind of nonslip treads on the steps. Of the two measures the handrail is the most important, because even nonslip treads can be coated with ice if the temperature is right while the handrail is not affected by anything.

A very substantial handrail can be made as illustrated by two pieces of 2 x 4 lumber secured by screws and iron angles as shown. The exact method shown here is not essential as any solid method will do the trick as well. The type of railing suggested is particularly needed where the steps are very wide or where there is a railing on only one side.

In reviewing the causes of step and stair accidents, it develops that a great percentage of them are caused by people using steps or stairs while both arms are full of bundles. Thinking this over, it occurs to us that a woman returning from the market often has both hands full of purchases. A rail would come in handy should she slip.

The handrail we show here does not cost two dollars and can be made and installed by any handy man in an hour.

Landlord Seeks $460 In Rent For Bus Garage

A civil action is scheduled in Municipal Court Tuesday morning in which Paul Berman of W. 9th St. seeks $460 allegedly overdue in rent from the Holtz Transportation Co. for garages which its buses occupy on W. 9th St.

Berman's petition alleges that Andrew H. Holtz, owner of the firm, owes him rent at $90 a month from March 24 through Aug. 24. He also alleges that the Holtz concern's "tenacy expired" as of Aug. 24.

Berman sued initially in a two-part petition asking the court to evict the Holtz concern and give him judgment for past - due rent. The court ordered Holtz Sept. 29 to surrender the premises and continued the case as it related to unpaid rent.

Family Room Seen Popular In Wintertime

Even if you're not a winter sports enthusiast, snowtime can be a very pleasant part of the year if you can spend it by a cheery hearthside. For most folks, this means the family room, that spot in the house where comfy clothing and utter relaxation reign supreme.

The popularity of the family room as a specialized place to unwind stems in large part from the fact that it has been designed with just that purpose in mind. Neither a messy catch - all room nor a formalized library, today's home recreation center has built-in coziness which caters to both family fun and individual relaxation.

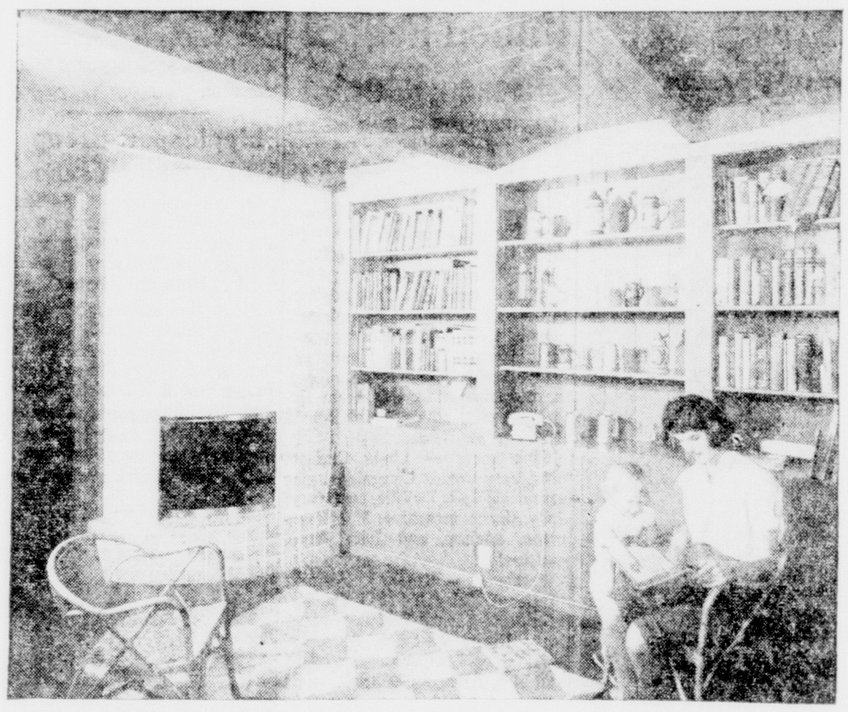
The focal point in many a family room is the fireplace corner. Varied in style from common brick to glazed tile, the fireplace is often flanked by bookshelves, for glowing firelight and a good book seem to go hand in hand.

This nook becomes the decorative pace setter for the rest of the room since much of the room's character is derived from the styling of the bookshelves.

A contemporary flavor is brought out when shelving is hung, in suspended manner, on a wall paneled in one of the sleek, golden shaded softwoods like Douglas fir or west coast hemlock. Here, a clear finish, which captures the wood's natural coloring and interesting grain pattern, is in the modern mode.

A colonial atmosphere comes to the fore when bookshelves are recessed in the wall in the more traditional bookcase style. Though beloved volumes are still set against a background of friendly wood, the fir or hemlock paneling is often stained or painted.

Almost always bookshelves are built in conjunction with cabinets which form the lower half of the wall. Here, cluttery items like monopoly boards and bridge tables, or even fireplace wood, can be kept out of sight, yet within an easy arm's reach.



WHEN THE AIR TURNS CHILL, the family migrates back to the family room from the patio. Inviting atmosphere of this cozy den is a combination of warm wood interior and interesting tiled fireplace. Built-in bookshelves and cabinets, as well as wall paneling and ceiling decking, are of Douglas fir, painted pale moss to suit the family's taste.

Note To Builders: Less 'Scenery,' More Closets

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Wife who is too watchful of husband is likely to wind up without a new house.

No, Confucius didn't say that. It's a bit of advice offered to builders in a trade paper, The Long Island Builder.

The tip goes like this: "Use hostesses on heavy traffic days, but use matronly types rather than glamor girls. Husbands keep their eyes on sexy young things; wives keep their eyes on the husbands; nobody sees the house."

This is a fascinating tidbit to file in your memory book under the heading: "Reasons why we don't own a house."

There is no happier female in the world than a woman who is about to take on a house. She's in no mood for quibbling once she has a foot in the door. That's an accomplishment in itself.

The paper suggests among other sales techniques to charm the prospective buyer, the muted strains of radio or record player, coffee or soft drinks in the model house kitchen, a handy swing in the backyard to enchant children while parents ogle, something cooking on the stove to make the home smell good, shades drawn if the day is dark, doors open if the sun is shining.

It sounds homey, but we'll put our house money on the seller who shows more closet space than a woman can dream up (and if they're departmentalized so much the better) such important - to - women work savers as washing machine, dryer, dish washer, enough kitchen cabinets to house her collection of portable appliances, a fenced-in area for small fry, a small room for cogitating, sewing, ironing or reading, and if it's soundproof so much the better, a living room large or small that can be decorated for coziness, not broken up with windows, doors, stairscases all in the wrong places, a good lighting system, a pleasant terrace outdoors accessible to the kitchen.

College Given $25,000 From Leetonia Pair

LEETONIA — Wittenberg College at Springfield plans to honor Mr. and Mrs. John Worman of Ridge St. for a $25,000 gift that will be used to maintain the chapel-library building at the college.

The Worman's gift represents the proceeds from the sale of their 104-acre farm in Salem Township. Under the arrangement, the college will invest the money in a trust fund and the couple will live off the proceeds.

At their death, the entire amount will become the college's property, set aside in the John and Anna Worman Fund. The Wormans sold their farm in August.

The school has presented them honorary life memberships in the Wittenberg Alumni Association and hopes to honor them at an informal gathering on the campus soon. Neither of the Wormans ever has seen the school, although an uncle of Worman's attended the school many years ago. He became a minister.

Worman is 65 and his wife is 66. They said they are convinced that Christian education is the only hope for the world's future "in view of events of recent years."

"We gave the money because we always have believed in Christian education," Worman said. "It is a business proposition. They'll invest the money and we'll have an income to live on for the rest of our lives."

Firemen Given Flag

The color guard of American Legion Post 374 presented a new flag to the Liverpool Township West volunteer fire department Friday night at the LaCroft station as an event of Fire Prevention Week and "open house" observed Wednesday through Saturday.

Shown during the ceremony left to right, are Homer Cronin, assistant chief of the west department; Allen Goodman, commander of the East End post, and Ed Emmerling, chief of both the east and west departments of the township.

Some 110 pupils of the LaCroft School visited the station yesterday.

Chief Emmerling said fire fighting equipment, combined with Civilian Defense equipment was displayed.

A color film on fire safety was shown periodically by Herman Heiney. The auxiliary and mass feeding unit of the Civilian Defense helped in demonstrations and served coffee and dougnuts.

At a meeting Wednesday evening, firemen authorized purchase of six coats, helmets and boots. A radio was reported installed in the emergency truck to provide direct communication between trucks and the station.

The radios will operate on the sheriff's police radio wave length. A new pump was installed on the emergency truck to pump water for grass fires.

Funds for these projects amounted to approximately $300 and were raised through joint efforts of firemen and the auxiliary.

A new project underway is the erection of a 36-foot tower to train personnel in ladder climbing and hose carrying.

The tower will be erected on a lot, recently purchased by firemen and the auxiliary, which adjoins the station. A committee, Cronin, Chalmer Gifford and William Rodgers, announced that an auction sale will be held at the station Wednesday, Oct. 28.

Some 24 attended Wednesday's meeting.

Taylor, however, hinted the panel might seek an extension of the deadline if it felt time would help mediate the dispute. Under the law, the President would not be bound by the board's recommendation.

In a copyrighted interview in U.S. News & World Report today, Taylor said the emergency strike procedures of the Taft - Hartley law are inadequate to deal with big strikes. Taylor had been interviewed by the magazine before he was appointed to head the board.

Two basic issues separate management and labor in the strike —wages and contract changes. The steel companies say they have offered wages and benefits worth 15 cents an hour over a two-year period. The union says it wants an increase of 15 cents an hour for each year.

The companies also seek contract changes that they say would decrease labor costs. The union opposes these changes.

Before the strike began, steel workers were averaging $3.11 an hour.

Certainly, too, we realize the value of the USO to our men and women in the armed forces.

"Let us not fail to accept our responsibility in maintaining these vital community fund agencies — we need each of them — but right now — they need each of us."

Kerin's interest in Community Fund agencies stems from his several years as a Boy Scout troop leader at his former home in Connecticut. Since his arrival in East Liverpool, he has been named promotion committee chairman of the local merchants association and is also a member of the Chamber of Commerce.

Finley is a familiar figure in civic affairs, having been chosen to receive the Distinguished Service Award of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and was also awarded a life membership. He is a member of the local Rotary Club and the Taft School Parent - Teacher Association.

WHAT MAKES BUICK DRIVE SO SMOOTHLY?

Buick's Exclusive Turbine Drive is Jet-Smooth...

No Mechanical Gears Ever Shift!

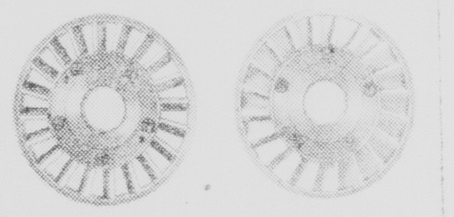
In a day when so many cars are alike, we believe you should know how basically different and how basically better a Buick is built.

For instance, no car at Buick's price, nor any car at a higher price, offers you so smooth, so dependable, so trouble-free an automatic transmission as Buick's Turbine Drive.

In ordinary automatic transmissions, gears are shifted automatically. But the shift is there! You feel it shift or hear it shift. And with each shift, the engine must adjust to a change in load, the wheels must handle a change in traction.

With today's Buick in "Drive"—the flow of power from toe to wheels is jet-smooth, faster than ever and uninterrupted. The only thing that shifts is the pitch of stator blades in a swift, powerful current of oil . . . high angle for superb performance in starting or passing . . . low angle for best economy at cruising speeds.

Turbine Drive Transmission is available in every Buick. If you choose the LeSabre — the lowest-priced Buick — it is a modestly priced option. If your choice is Invicta—the high-performance Buick —or Electra—the finest Buick of all . . . it is yours as standard equipment. But the only sure way to get this quality Buick feature is to buy a Buick. And this is the year. This is Buick at its all-time best!



Economy Angle Performance Angle

Nothing shifts but the pitch of the stator blades in a jet-smooth flow of oil. High angle for quick starts and passing. Low angle for economical cruising.

Certainly, too, we realize the value of the USO to our men and women in the armed forces.

"Let us not fail to accept our responsibility in maintaining these vital community fund agencies — we need each of them — but right now — they need each of us."

Kerin's interest in Community Fund agencies stems from his several years as a Boy Scout troop leader at his former home in Connecticut. Since his arrival in East Liverpool, he has been named promotion committee chairman of the local merchants association and is also a member of the Chamber of Commerce.

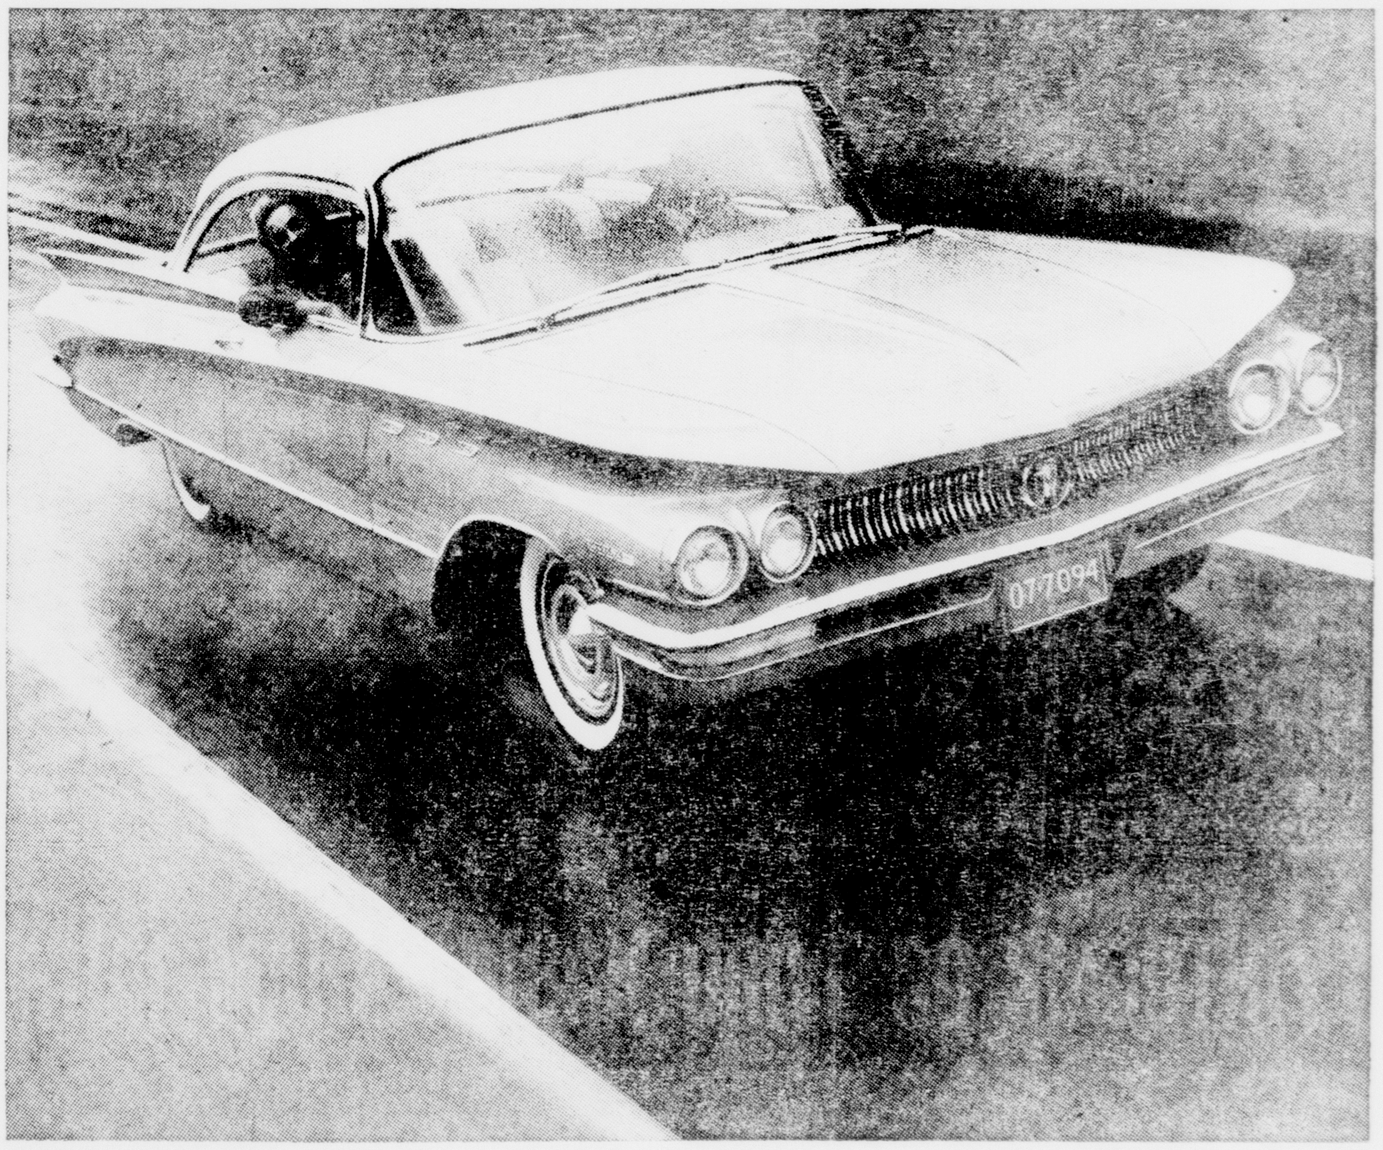
WHAT MAKES BUICK DRIVE SO SMOOTHLY?



Buick's Exclusive Turbine Drive is Jet-Smooth...

No Mechanical Gears Ever Shift!

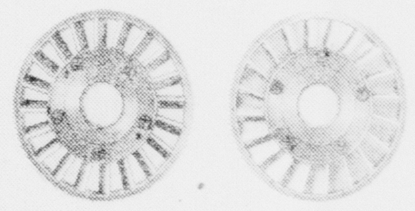
In a day when so many cars are alike, we believe you should know how basically different and how basically better a Buick is built.

For instance, no car at Buick's price, nor any car at a higher price, offers you so smooth, so dependable, so trouble-free an automatic transmission as Buick's Turbine Drive.

In ordinary automatic transmissions, gears are shifted automatically. But the shift is there! You feel it shift or hear it shift. And with each shift, the engine must adjust to a change in load, the wheels must handle a change in traction.

With today's Buick in "Drive"—the flow of power from toe to wheels is jet-smooth, faster than ever and uninterrupted. The only thing that shifts is the pitch of stator blades in a swift, powerful current of oil . . . high angle for superb performance in starting or passing . . . low angle for best economy at cruising speeds.

Turbine Drive Transmission is available in every Buick. If you choose the LeSabre — the lowest-priced Buick — it is a modestly priced option. If your choice is Invicta—the high-performance Buick —or Electra—the finest Buick of all . . . it is yours as standard equipment. But the only sure way to get this quality Buick feature is to buy a Buick. And this is the year. This is Buick at its all-time best!



Economy Angle Performance Angle

Nothing shifts but the pitch of the stator blades in a jet-smooth flow of oil. High angle for quick starts and passing. Low angle for economical cruising.

Waterford Park Opens 42-Day Fall Racing Season Today

Hillsdale Set For Work Out On Thursday

Waterford Park opened its gates today on a 42-day fall racing season which will continue through Nov. 28. Post time daily during the fall will be 1:30.

The opening day feature, the Curtain Raiser at six furlongs, promises to attract a splendid field of sprinters, including names brand new to the sector, an indication of the widespread efforts of Waterford officials to bring class horses into West Virginia.

One of the top candidates will be the B & H Stable's Rock Pilot, fresh from Hazel Park with more than $100,000 in purse earnings to his credit; Blanche Koring's Bugsy, a recent winner at Beulah Park; the Lone Pine Stable's Easy Juan; H. H. Chopin's Hurry Blue; D. Sukundo's Precious Trust; D. O. Lesher's Slashing and others.

Among new jockeys on hand for the season are Vic Bovine, top pilot of the meeting a year ago, Paul A. Ward who led the colony this summer and has since been in Ohio, Forest Kaelin, Benny Green from the Aqueduct course in New York, Edward J. Decker, James Dobson, Paul Herron, Blake Collins, Harvey Unger, Ronald Reynolds and many more.

During the course of the 42 days racing, Waterford Park will present 17 major features for thoroughbreds of all ages and route running abilities, and some $500,000 in purse monies. Long distance racing, for which the track is becoming prominent, will also be presented, and many marathon runners are on the grounds, ready to engage in races up to two miles.

Every Tuesday will be Ladies' Day, on each Thursday of the meet there will be a give - away of an automobile or of a trip to Europe or Hawaii, and numerous innovations are planned from time to time.

This being the latest the track ever has operated, President James F. Edwards has had installed a battery of 229 infra-red lamps, fed by protane gas, guaranteed to keep the temperature at a comfortable 70 degrees regardless of weather conditions.

Hillsdale, one of the greatest horses of the past few years, is headed for Waterford Park and an appearance Thursday.

The 4-year-old son of Tak-Away-Johann, by Johnstown, will work out between races, his first public appearance since being narrowly beaten by Sword Dancer in the recent Woodward at Aqueduct. To enable everyone to see Hillsdale in action, the gates to Waterford Park will be opened to the public free of charge on Thursday. The colt will work out immediately after the sixth race.

Hillsdale is one of the turf's most affluent horses, having earned $646,935, of which amount $502,090 has been accumulated this year in 10 victories out of 13 starts. Included in his skein of wins are "firsts" in such important classics as the Aqueduct Handicap, the Los Angeles, Californian, Argonaut, American and Gold Cup Handics at Hollywood, and the San Carlos, San Fernando and Maturity at Santa Anita.

When local racing fans see Hillsdale in his afternoon workout they will be watching one of the greatest bargains of all time. An Indiana - bred product of the Murlogg Farm of Mrs. Helen Kellogg of Evansville, he was sold to C. W. Smith for $25,000 on the "say so" of veterinarian Dr. Alexander Harthill.

He developed into an immediate success, winning 6 of his 14 starts as a youngster and $21,180 and 7 of his 14 starts last year and $123,665.

He came into the full flower of his speed and class this year, and now is an outstanding candidate for "Horse of the Year" laurels after soundly trouncing Round Table in the Woodward, as that horse finished behind him in third position.

Efforts are now underway to have Jockey Tommy Barrow, Hillsdale's regular pilot, fly to Waterford Park on Thursday to ride him in his workout. Under Barrow's handling the colt has started 16 times, winning 12 of those starts and finishing second 4 times.

No admission will be charged Thursday at Waterford Park.

Sooners, Army Fall Victims In Big Upsets

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Four short weeks ago, teams like Auburn, Oklahoma, Southern Methodist, Army, Ohio State and North Carolina couldn't wait for the college football season to get under way.

They were loaded, ready for bear.

Today, they are lagging among the also-rans and a new group of powerhouses—the likes of Northwestern, Georgia Tech, Texas, Southern California and Syracuse—have emerged.

This Saturday, still another outfit could bulldoze its way into the national limelight. Arkansas, lightly regarded in the Southwest Conference, has eight victories in a row and has moved into contention for the championship.

The Razorbacks face their big test of the season when they entertain Texas in a night game. This one could decide the league championship and the host team in the Cotton Bowl New Year's Day.

Arkansas cut down Baylor, 23-7, last week, while Texas was taking the measure of Oklahoma, 19-12.

Auburn showed signs of snapping out of the doldrums by whacking Kentucky, 33-0. This week, the Tigers face another formidable foe in Georgia Tech, No. 3 in the current Associated Press weekly poll. Tech spilled Tennessee 14-7.

Southern Methodist goes against Rice, while Army, beaten 17-11 by unbeaten Penn State, takes on Duke. Ohio State, which has scored only two touchdowns in three games, has the unenviable task of facing Purdue. The Boilermakers sat on Wisconsin, which had been making threatening gestures in the Big Ten, 21-0, last Saturday. Ohio State lost to Illinois 9-0, its second straight shutout.

North Carolina, which had been regarded as the heir apparent to the Atlantic Coast Conference throne, has broken even in four games and tangles with Maryland Saturday.

Two teams that have lived up to their preseason estimates are Louisiana State and Mississippi, both of the Southeastern Conference. LSU, riding atop the AP poll, whipped Miami, 27-3, last week for its fourth victory without defeat. The Bengals from the bayou should have no trouble against Kentucky this week.

Mississippi boasts a 3-0 record and furthermore, hasn't been scored on. Ole Miss' latest victim was Vanderbilt, 33-0, with Tulane next in line.

Among the upstarts, Northwestern perhaps has provided the biggest surprise. The Wildcats have spent many a year in or near the Big Ten basement, but now are baring their fangs and look as though they mean it. Despite the loss of Dick Thornton, they toppled tough Minnesota, 6-0, Saturday with Bob Eickhoff, a pee-wee scrub, spearheading the drive for the touchdown. This week: Michigan.

Southern Cal likewise has produced unexpected power and shows a 3-0 mark. Syracuse, also 3-0, rates now as perhaps the best in the East — by a shade over Penn State — after crushing Navy 32-6.

ELHS-Warren Tickets Held Up Until Tuesday

Merrill Hall, ELHS athletic director, said today that due to a "mix up at the printers" that tickets for the East Liverpool-Warren game Friday won't go on sale until Tuesday afternoon at Brian's Men Store on W. 5th St. The tickets were scheduled to go on sale today.

Passes For 3 Touchdowns

Allen Has Greatest Day In Victory Over Badgers

East Liverpool's Bernie Allen had one of his greatest days on a college gridiron Saturday when he personally led Purdue to a 21-0 victory over Wisconsin in an important Big Ten battle.

Allen, who moved into the No. 1 quarterback spot after Ross Fichtner was sidelined for the season with a shoulder injury, passed for all three touchdowns Saturday.

The former Potter quarterback had a hand in all the scoring when he kicked three points after touchdowns, running his string to seven straight in this department. He converted four in a row against Notre Dame last week.

Allen tossed two scoring passes to end Leonard Jardine on plays covering 6 yards and 22 yards in the first quarter as Purdue took a 14-0 lead.

The final TD came in the fourth quarter when Allen spotted halfback Joe Kulbacki for a 13-yard scoring play.

Allen also intercepted a pass early in the contest and completed 7 of 9 for 92 yards.

It was a great day at Lafayette since it marked the first time that Purdue had defeated Wisconsin since 1945.

Ivan Toncic of Midland, again had a big hand in Pitt's 12-0 win over Duke Saturday. Toncic, who tossed four touchdowns passes last week, set up Pitt's first TD Saturday with his passing, then tossed to end Mike Ditka for another touchdown in the fourth quarter.

Still another former Potter quarterback, Jim Potts, clicked for one touchdown pass in Bowling Green's 34-0 victory over Western Michigan Saturday. Potts tossed to Clarence Mason on a 35-yard scoring play.

Commissioner Bert Bell Dies After Heart Attack

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Commissioner Bert Bell of the National Football League died of a heart attack Sunday, leaving a vacancy the men he served say they never really can fill.

The 65-year-old Bell collapsed in the seats of the very stadium in which he started his rise from college player to czar of professional football. He was watching a league game between the Philadelphia Eagles and Pittsburgh Steelers, teams he once owned and coached.

He was pronounced dead 10 minutes later in University Hospital, a stone's throw from Franklin Field where thousands once cheered him as Penn football captain.

Around the league, owners and coaches paid homage to the man under whose guidance the league prospered beyond anyone's wildest dreams. Professional football under Bell became respected as a major sport.

George Hallas, a pioneer of the pro game, probably summed up best the feeling of his colleagues when he commented:

"Bell was a great leader, a genius in fact.

"All his contributions to pro football will never be forgotten. He brought pro football to its present heights and we will all miss him."

Bell's three children, Bert Jr., 23; Upton, 21, and Jane, 17, were with their father when he died. They attended the game with him. The commissioner also is survived by his widow, the former Frances Upton, a one-time musical comedy star.

Bell suffered a mild heart attack last February. He had been under a physician's care ever since. His travel had been limited, and a great deal of the league work he did at his suburban Narberth home.

Dr. Paul Schrode of the University Hospital said Bell was unconscious when he first saw him. The doctor said:

"He was just gasping. He was pale white. He never regained consciousness. It must have been a massive thing to take his life so instantly."

The owners, of course, were too shocked to give much thought about a successor. Under league rules, in the event of the commissioner's death, a league meeting to elect a successor must be called within 30 days. Club owners have the alternative of appointing a president to serve until the annual meeting in January.

For the moment, however, the acting commissioner is Austin H. Gunsel, treasurer of the NFL and a former FBI agent. The constitution says the treasurer automatically becomes acting commissioner upon the commissioner's death, to serve until a new commissioner is appointed. Gunsel lives in Narberth, not far from Bell's home.

Speculation on a possible successor would have to include such names as George Halas, owner-coach of the Chicago Bears and a pioneer of the pro game; the volatile George Preston Marshall; owner of the Washington Redskins; Don Kellett, successful young general manager of the Baltimore Colts; Paul Brown, renowned coach-executive of the Cleveland Browns, and Joe Donoghue, assistant league treasurer.

How the owners felt about Bell was indicated in comments Sunday after they learned of his death.

Paul Brown — "He was an awful lot of this professional football — probably the outstanding commissioner in sports.

George Marshall — "They will never find a commissioner as good as Bell, no matter whom they pick."

Dan Reeves, owner of the Los Angeles Rams — " tremendous loss to football and also a personal loss. He was a great commissioner."

Edwin J. Anderson, Detroit Lions—"Bell was a level headed administrator who met every problem head on. His death is a tragic thing. Bell has done more for professional football than any other man. He will be sorely missed by the entire league."

Jack Mara, New York Giants—"It's an awful blow to us."

He added that club owners would meet in Philadelphia on Wednesday after the funeral to discuss the problem of a new commissioner.

Vince Lombardi, Green Bay Packers—"I don't know how we'll replace him in the league.

Vic Morabito, San Francisco 49ers — "We lost our strongest member. He truly cannot be replaced. He loved us all and we loved him."

Illini Stuns Buckeyes

Ohio State Faces Long Road After 9-0 Setback

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — It looks like a rocky road ahead for Coach Woody Hayes and his sophomore-studded Buckeyes.

Ohio State's 9-0 setback Saturday to Illinois got the Bucks off on the wrong foot in the Big Ten derby.

For one thing, it was Ohio's second straight loss and second straight shutout. Only twice before in Hayes' nine-year regime has State gone two straight games without scoring.

And, under Hayes, it was only the second time the Bucks launched a Big Ten season by losing.

Illinois turned the trick the other time too, in 1953. For Illinois, playing its last game against the Buckeyes under Coach Ray Eliot, Saturday's victory was a cherished one.

Things could get worse for the Bucks before there is any improvement. Purdue is next for Hayes' embattled football team, and iin their last two outings, the Boilermakers flattened Notre Dame and Wisconsin.

The Buckeye loss was only one of the weekend surprises on the Ohio gridiron scene. Miami, Heidelberg and Oberlin fell from the unbeaten ranks, leaving only Capital, Ohio University, Bowling Green, John Carroll and Western Reserve with unsullied records. Unbeaten Wooster has been tied.

In big ones, Akron scored all its points in the first quarter and held on to top Heidelberg, 20-14; Kent State rebounded from a 46-0 loss to Ohio University a week earlier to stagger Miami, 14-6; Ohio U. turned back Xavier, 25-7, and Otterbein hung a first setback on Oberlin in a 48-6 romp.

Bowling Green walloped Western Michigan, 34-0, to grab a share of first place with Ohio U. in the usually hectic Mid-American Conference.

Miami's loss was its first in MAC competition since Cincinnati, now a member of the Missouri Valley Conference, beat the Redskins in 1952.

While Ohio State was having its troubles, little Capital was giving Columbus rooters something to cheer about. With Cap's sensational back Al White scoring two touchdowns and kicking a field goal, the Lutherans blanked Kenyon, 30-0, and in the process earned a piece of first place in the Ohio Conference.

Wooster got by Denison, 22-15, to keep pace with Capital, but Akron's win over Heidelberg knocked last week's statewide leaders to fifth place in the OC race.

White, a Portsmouth product, is the nation's small college scoring leader with 10 TD's in three games.

Findlay and Bluffton kept the lead in the Mid-Ohio League, the Oilers by beating Defiance, 22-7, and the Beavers with a 15-0 win over Ohio Northern.

In intersectional tiffs, punchless Dayton bowed to Holy Cross, 8-0, and North Texas State whipped Cincinnati, 21-6. Ohio teams won five and lost four with outside teams, giving them an interstate mark of 26 wins, 15 losses and 2 ties.

In some big games this week, Capital meets tough Muskingum which dumped Wittenberg 21-0 Saturday, Akron tangles with Wooster, Findlay plays Bluffton and Toledo battles Bowling green.

Round Table Wins Big Race

By JOHN CHANDLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Round Table, having taken another trip to the bank after winning the $58,200-Manhattan Handicap, loafed in his stall at Aqueduct today while his owner planned a second crack at Sword Dancer in the $100,000-Jockey Club Gold Cup Oct. 31 at the Long Island track.

Travis M. Kerr's five-year-old is nearing the end of a remarkable racing career, and his convincing one-length triumph over Bald Eagle Saturday in the tough 1⅛-mile Manhattan added another track record to his list.

Round Table has broken or equalled 16 track world or American records — more than any horse in the history of the sport. His Manhattan clocking was 2:42 3-5 under 132 pounds, compared with the 2:44 2-5 record set Sept. 30 by Middle Brother with 120 pounds in the Lawrence Realization. The Cain Hoy stable's Bald Eagle carried 10 pounds less than Round Table.

Moneywise, the Table netted $37,230, boosting his world record to $1,727,749. This is far ahead of Nashua, who retired with $1,288,565 after the 1956 season.

"I'm leaning towards the Jockey Club Gold Cup as his next start," said Kerr the wealthy Oklahoma City sportsman.

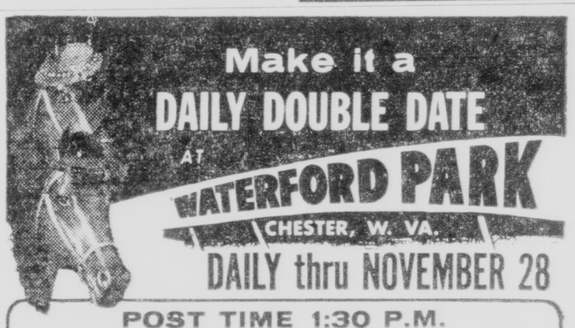
In the Gold Cup, at two miles, Round Table will pack 124 pounds, the Brookmeade Stable's three-year-old Sword Dancer, 119.

Monti Wins $20,000 Hesperia Golf Open

HESPERIA, Calif. (AP) —Eric Monti, a 40-year-old club professional, bested a field of touring golf stars to win the $20,000 Hesperia Open Sunday with a 17-under-par 72-hold total of 271.

Monti's only previous major win was the 1955 Miami Beach Open. His total was four strokes ahead of a trio consisting of former U.S. Open champ Jack Fleck, of Tarzana, Calif; Jay Hebert of Sanford, Fla; and Bob Duden, Portland, Ore., at 275.

Monti's rounds were 70-68-64-69 on the par 72 Hesperia Country Club course. The event attracted a final-day allery of 4,000. It was sunny and warm on the desert course — the mercury reached 85.



United Gridders Score 26-0 Win Over Beavers

United tripped arch-rival Beaver Local, 26-0, for its second straight victory Saturday afternoon on the United gridiron.

Held to one touchdown in the second quarter, the Golden Eagles tallied three times in the second half while blanking the Beavers.

The first tally came on a 34-yard punt return by Russell Wood, who scored a fourth period touchdown on an 18-yard run.

Jerry Marks crossed the goal line for the winners once on an electrifying 89-yard dash, longest turned in this season by a United gridder. The other came on a one-yard plunge by Larry Marks.

Coach Jack O'Rourke's Beaver Local team, hit hard by injuries, dropped its third game in four starts.

Every Tuesday will be Ladies' Day, on each Thursday of the meet there will be a give - away of an automobile or of a trip to Europe or Hawaii, and numerous innovations are planned from time to time.

This being the latest the track ever has operated, President James F. Edwards has had installed a battery of 229 infra-red lamps, fed by protane gas, guaranteed to keep the temperature at a comfortable 70 degrees regardless of weather conditions.

Hillsdale, one of the greatest horses of the past few years, is headed for Waterford Park and an appearance Thursday.

The 4-year-old son of Tak-Away-Johann, by Johnstown, will work out between races, his first public appearance since being narrowly beaten by Sword Dancer in the recent Woodward at Aqueduct. To enable everyone to see Hillsdale in action, the gates to Waterford Park will be opened to the public free of charge on Thursday. The colt will work out immediately after the sixth race.

Hillsdale is one of the turf's most affluent horses, having earned $646,935, of which amount $502,090 has been accumulated this year in 10 victories out of 13 starts. Included in his skein of wins are "firsts" in such important classics as the Aqueduct Handicap, the Los Angeles, Californian, Argonaut, American and Gold Cup Handics at Hollywood, and the San Carlos, San Fernando and Maturity at Santa Anita.

When local racing fans see Hillsdale in his afternoon workout they will be watching one of the greatest bargains of all time. An Indiana - bred product of the Murlogg Farm of Mrs. Helen Kellogg of Evansville, he was sold to C. W. Smith for $25,000 on the "say so" of veterinarian Dr. Alexander Harthill.

He developed into an immediate success, winning 6 of his 14 starts as a youngster and $21,180 and 7 of his 14 starts last year and $123,665.

He came into the full flower of his speed and class this year, and now is an outstanding candidate for "Horse of the Year" laurels after soundly trouncing Round Table in the Woodward, as that horse finished behind him in third position.

Efforts are now underway to have Jockey Tommy Barrow, Hillsdale's regular pilot, fly to Waterford Park on Thursday to ride him in his workout. Under Barrow's handling the colt has started 16 times, winning 12 of those starts and finishing second 4 times.

Sooners, Army Fall Victims In Big Upsets

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Four short weeks ago, teams like Auburn, Oklahoma, Southern Methodist, Army, Ohio State and North Carolina couldn't wait for the college football season to get under way.

They were loaded, ready for bear.

Today, they are lagging among the also-rans and a new group of powerhouses—the likes of Northwestern, Georgia Tech, Texas, Southern California and Syracuse—have emerged.

This Saturday, still another outfit could bulldoze its way into the national limelight. Arkansas, lightly regarded in the Southwest Conference, has eight victories in a row and has moved into contention for the championship.

The Razorbacks face their big test of the season when they entertain Texas in a night game. This one could decide the league championship and the host team in the Cotton Bowl New Year's Day.

Arkansas cut down Baylor, 23-7, last week, while Texas was taking the measure of Oklahoma, 19-12.

Auburn showed signs of snapping out of the doldrums by whacking Kentucky, 33-0. This week, the Tigers face another formidable foe in Georgia Tech, No. 3 in the current Associated Press weekly poll. Tech spilled Tennessee 14-7.

Southern Methodist goes against Rice, while Army, beaten 17-11 by unbeaten Penn State, takes on Duke. Ohio State, which has scored only two touchdowns in three games, has the unenviable task of facing Purdue. The Boilermakers sat on Wisconsin, which had been making threatening gestures in the Big Ten, 21-0, last Saturday. Ohio State lost to Illinois 9-0, its second straight shutout.

North Carolina, which had been regarded as the heir apparent to the Atlantic Coast Conference throne, has broken even in four games and tangles with Maryland Saturday.

Two teams that have lived up to their preseason estimates are Louisiana State and Mississippi, both of the Southeastern Conference. LSU, riding atop the AP poll, whipped Miami, 27-3, last week for its fourth victory without defeat. The Bengals from the bayou should have no trouble against Kentucky this week.

Mississippi boasts a 3-0 record and furthermore, hasn't been scored on. Ole Miss' latest victim was Vanderbilt, 33-0, with Tulane next in line.

Among the upstarts, Northwestern perhaps has provided the biggest surprise. The Wildcats have spent many a year in or near the Big Ten basement, but now are baring their fangs and look as though they mean it. Despite the loss of Dick Thornton, they toppled tough Minnesota, 6-0, Saturday with Bob Eickhoff, a pee-wee scrub, spearheading the drive for the touchdown. This week: Michigan.

Southern Cal likewise has produced unexpected power and shows a 3-0 mark. Syracuse, also 3-0, rates now as perhaps the best in the East — by a shade over Penn State — after crushing Navy 32-6.

ELHS-Warren Tickets Held Up Until Tuesday

Merrill Hall, ELHS athletic director, said today that due to a "mix up at the printers" that tickets for the East Liverpool-Warren game Friday won't go on sale until Tuesday afternoon at Brian's Men Store on W. 5th St. The tickets were scheduled to go on sale today.

Passes For 3 Touchdowns

Allen Has Greatest Day In Victory Over Badgers

East Liverpool's Bernie Allen had one of his greatest days on a college gridiron Saturday when he personally led Purdue to a 21-0 victory over Wisconsin in an important Big Ten battle.

Allen, who moved into the No. 1 quarterback spot after Ross Fichtner was sidelined for the season with a shoulder injury, passed for all three touchdowns Saturday.

The former Potter quarterback had a hand in all the scoring when he kicked three points after touchdowns, running his string to seven straight in this department. He converted four in a row against Notre Dame last week.

Allen tossed two scoring passes to end Leonard Jardine on plays covering 6 yards and 22 yards in the first quarter as Purdue took a 14-0 lead.

The final TD came in the fourth quarter when Allen spotted halfback Joe Kulbacki for a 13-yard scoring play.

Allen also intercepted a pass early in the contest and completed 7 of 9 for 92 yards.

It was a great day at Lafayette since it marked the first time that Purdue had defeated Wisconsin since 1945.

Ivan Toncic of Midland, again had a big hand in Pitt's 12-0 win over Duke Saturday. Toncic, who tossed four touchdowns passes last week, set up Pitt's first TD Saturday with his passing, then tossed to end Mike Ditka for another touchdown in the fourth quarter.

Still another former Potter quarterback, Jim Potts, clicked for one touchdown pass in Bowling Green's 34-0 victory over Western Michigan Saturday. Potts tossed to Clarence Mason on a 35-yard scoring play.

Commissioner Bert Bell Dies After Heart Attack

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Commissioner Bert Bell of the National Football League died of a heart attack Sunday, leaving a vacancy the men he served say they never really can fill.

The 65-year-old Bell collapsed in the seats of the very stadium in which he started his rise from college player to czar of professional football. He was watching a league game between the Philadelphia Eagles and Pittsburgh Steelers, teams he once owned and coached.

He was pronounced dead 10 minutes later in University Hospital, a stone's throw from Franklin Field where thousands once cheered him as Penn football captain.

Around the league, owners and coaches paid homage to the man under whose guidance the league prospered beyond anyone's wildest dreams. Professional football under Bell became respected as a major sport.

George Hallas, a pioneer of the pro game, probably summed up best the feeling of his colleagues when he commented:

"Bell was a great leader, a genius in fact.

"All his contributions to pro football will never be forgotten. He brought pro football to its present heights and we will all miss him."

Bell's three children, Bert Jr., 23; Upton, 21, and Jane, 17, were with their father when he died. They attended the game with him. The commissioner also is survived by his widow, the former Frances Upton, a one-time musical comedy star.

Bell suffered a mild heart attack last February. He had been under a physician's care ever since. His travel had been limited, and a great deal of the league work he did at his suburban Narberth home.

Dr. Paul Schrode of the University Hospital said Bell was unconscious when he first saw him. The doctor said:

"He was just gasping. He was pale white. He never regained consciousness. It must have been a massive thing to take his life so instantly."

The owners, of course, were too shocked to give much thought about a successor. Under league rules, in the event of the commissioner's death, a league meeting to elect a successor must be called within 30 days. Club owners have the alternative of appointing a president to serve until the annual meeting in January.

For the moment, however, the acting commissioner is Austin H. Gunsel, treasurer of the NFL and a former FBI agent. The constitution says the treasurer automatically becomes acting commissioner upon the commissioner's death, to serve until a new commissioner is appointed. Gunsel lives in Narberth, not far from Bell's home.

Speculation on a possible successor would have to include such names as George Halas, owner-coach of the Chicago Bears and a pioneer of the pro game; the volatile George Preston Marshall; owner of the Washington Redskins; Don Kellett, successful young general manager of the Baltimore Colts; Paul Brown, renowned coach-executive of the Cleveland Browns, and Joe Donoghue, assistant league treasurer.

How the owners felt about Bell was indicated in comments Sunday after they learned of his death.

Paul Brown — "He was an awful lot of this professional football — probably the outstanding commissioner in sports.

George Marshall — "They will never find a commissioner as good as Bell, no matter whom they pick."

Dan Reeves, owner of the Los Angeles Rams — " tremendous loss to football and also a personal loss. He was a great commissioner."

Edwin J. Anderson, Detroit Lions—"Bell was a level headed administrator who met every problem head on. His death is a tragic thing. Bell has done more for professional football than any other man. He will be sorely missed by the entire league."

Jack Mara, New York Giants—"It's an awful blow to us."

He added that club owners would meet in Philadelphia on Wednesday after the funeral to discuss the problem of a new commissioner.

Vince Lombardi, Green Bay Packers—"I don't know how we'll replace him in the league.

Vic Morabito, San Francisco 49ers — "We lost our strongest member. He truly cannot be replaced. He loved us all and we loved him."

Illini Stuns Buckeyes

Ohio State Faces Long Road After 9-0 Setback

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — It looks like a rocky road ahead for Coach Woody Hayes and his sophomore-studded Buckeyes.

Ohio State's 9-0 setback Saturday to Illinois got the Bucks off on the wrong foot in the Big Ten derby.

For one thing, it was Ohio's second straight loss and second straight shutout. Only twice before in Hayes' nine-year regime has State gone two straight games without scoring.

And, under Hayes, it was only the second time the Bucks launched a Big Ten season by losing.

Illinois turned the trick the other time too, in 1953. For Illinois, playing its last game against the Buckeyes under Coach Ray Eliot, Saturday's victory was a cherished one.

Things could get worse for the Bucks before there is any improvement. Purdue is next for Hayes' embattled football team, and iin their last two outings, the Boilermakers flattened Notre Dame and Wisconsin.

The Buckeye loss was only one of the weekend surprises on the Ohio gridiron scene. Miami, Heidelberg and Oberlin fell from the unbeaten ranks, leaving only Capital, Ohio University, Bowling Green, John Carroll and Western Reserve with unsullied records. Unbeaten Wooster has been tied.

In big ones, Akron scored all its points in the first quarter and held on to top Heidelberg, 20-14; Kent State rebounded from a 46-0 loss to Ohio University a week earlier to stagger Miami, 14-6; Ohio U. turned back Xavier, 25-7, and Otterbein hung a first setback on Oberlin in a 48-6 romp.

Bowling Green walloped Western Michigan, 34-0, to grab a share of first place with Ohio U. in the usually hectic Mid-American Conference.

Miami's loss was its first in MAC competition since Cincinnati, now a member of the Missouri Valley Conference, beat the Redskins in 1952.

While Ohio State was having its troubles, little Capital was giving Columbus rooters something to cheer about. With Cap's sensational back Al White scoring two touchdowns and kicking a field goal, the Lutherans blanked Kenyon, 30-0, and in the process earned a piece of first place in the Ohio Conference.

Wooster got by Denison, 22-15, to keep pace with Capital, but Akron's win over Heidelberg knocked last week's statewide leaders to fifth place in the OC race.

White, a Portsmouth product, is the nation's small college scoring leader with 10 TD's in three games.

Findlay and Bluffton kept the lead in the Mid-Ohio League, the Oilers by beating Defiance, 22-7, and the Beavers with a 15-0 win over Ohio Northern.

In intersectional tiffs, punchless Dayton bowed to Holy Cross, 8-0, and North Texas State whipped Cincinnati, 21-6. Ohio teams won five and lost four with outside teams, giving them an interstate mark of 26 wins, 15 losses and 2 ties.

In some big games this week, Capital meets tough Muskingum which dumped Wittenberg 21-0 Saturday, Akron tangles with Wooster, Findlay plays Bluffton and Toledo battles Bowling green.

Round Table Wins Big Race

By JOHN CHANDLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Round Table, having taken another trip to the bank after winning the $58,200-Manhattan Handicap, loafed in his stall at Aqueduct today while his owner planned a second crack at Sword Dancer in the $100,000-Jockey Club Gold Cup Oct. 31 at the Long Island track.

Travis M. Kerr's five-year-old is nearing the end of a remarkable racing career, and his convincing one-length triumph over Bald Eagle Saturday in the tough 1⅛-mile Manhattan added another track record to his list.

Round Table has broken or equalled 16 track world or American records — more than any horse in the history of the sport. His Manhattan clocking was 2:02 3-5 under 132 pounds, compared with the 2:04 2-5 record set Sept. 30 by Middle Brother with 120 pounds in the Lawrence Realization. The Cain Hoy stable's Bald Eagle carried 10 pounds less than Round Table.

Moneywise, the Table netted $37,230, boosting his world record to $1,727,749. This is far ahead of Nashua, who retired with $1,288,565 after the 1956 season.

"I'm leaning towards the Jockey Club Gold Cup as his next start," said Kerr the wealthy Oklahoma City sportsman.

In the Gold Cup, at two miles, Round Table will pack 124 pounds, the Brookmeade Stable's three-year-old Sword Dancer, 119.

United Gridders Score 26-0 Win Over Beavers

United tripped arch-rival Beaver Local, 26-0, for its second straight victory Saturday afternoon on the United gridiron.

Held to one touchdown in the second quarter, the Golden Eagles tallied three times in the second half while blanking the Beavers.

The first tally came on a 34-yard punt return by Russell Wood, who scored a fourth period touchdown on an 18-yard run.

Jerry Marks crossed the goal line for the winners once on an electrifying 89-yard dash, longest turned in this season by a United gridder. The other came on a one-yard plunge by Larry Marks.

Coach Jack O'Rourke's Beaver Local team, hit hard by injuries, dropped its third game in four starts.

St. Anthony In 31-6 Win Over Raiders

FOLLANSBEE — Follansbee St. Anthony scored four touchdowns in the second half to break a 6-6 tie and register a 31-6 victory over New Cumberland here Saturday.

End Fred Prantil scored three times while halfback Dom Sisinni added the other two scores. Prantil caught passes of 45 and 65 yards for two touchdowns then blocked a punt and raced 40 yards for another.

Sisinni crashed over from the two in the first period when raced 22 sprinted 22 yards for his second touchdown.

Fred Huff tallied New Cumberland's lone touchdown on a 22-yard pass from quarterback George Harris.

Monti Wins $20,000 Hesperia Golf Open

HESPERIA, Calif. (AP) —Eric Monti, a 40-year-old club professional, bested a field of touring golf stars to win the $20,000 Hesperia Open Sunday with a 17-under-par 72-hold total of 271.

Monti's only previous major win was the 1955 Miami Beach Open. His total was four strokes ahead of a trio consisting of former U.S. Open champ Jack Fleck, of Tarzana, Calif; Jay Hebert of Sanford, Fla; and Bob Duden, Portland, Ore., at 275.

Monti's rounds were 70-68-64-69 on the par 72 Hesperia Country Club course. The event attracted a final-day allery of 4,000. It was sunny and warm on the desert course — the mercury reached 85.

Green Bay Nips 49ers, 21-20, To Lead Western Conference

Eagles Turn Back Pittsburgh, 28-24

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Green Bay Packers, long dormant in the National Football League, have catapulted to the top of the heap on the shoulders of a hand-me-down quarterback and a shrewd new coach.

Suddenly the only stable element in the upset-prone circuit, the Packers won their third straight Sunday, edging the San Francisco 49ers 21-20, in a battle of the league's only undefeated clubs.

The main offensive threat for the Packers—who haven't won a division title since 1944—was Lamar McHan, picked up without fanfare from the Chicago Cadrinals on a trial basis.

The former Arkansas star clicked on a 21-yard scoring pass to Gary Knafelc early in the fourth quarter for the deciding touchdown.

A clever offensive tactician, new coach Vince Lombardi began juggling the downtrodden Green Bay outfit as soon as he took over.

The Packers next meet the Los Angeles Rams, who won their first game in convincing fashion by upsetting Chicago's Bears 28 - 21.

In other games, defending champion Baltimore rallied to defeat Detroit 31-24, New York edged Cleveland 10-6, Washington upended Chicago's Cardinals 23-14 and Philadelphia turned back Pittsburgh 28-24.

Ollie Matson, acquired by the Rams for nine players, was the decisive factor as Los Angeles, now 1 - 2, came from behind against the Bears (1-2). Matson ground out 199 yards in 31 carries and set up three touchdown strikes by quarterback Billy Wade.

Johnny Unitas bailed the Colts (2-1) out of danger. He threw three touchdown passes, including a 54-yarder to Ray Berry that put Baltimore out front in the last quarter. It was the 28th consecutive league game in which Unitas has thrown at least one scoring aerial.

Don Chandler's booming punts kept the Browns (1-2) deep in their own territory most of the day and the Giants (2-1) won despite gaining only 250 yards to Cleveland's 343.

With Ralph Guglielmi moving in for starting quarterback Eddie LeBaron, the Redskins (2-1) had little trouble with the fumbling Cardinals (1-2).

Defensive back Jimmy Carr starred for the Eagles (2-1). He intercepted two passes and deflected a TD-bound Pittsburgh aerial late in the game.

Cleveland Browns Drop Second To Giants, 10-6

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CLEVELAND (AP) — Paul E. Brown isn't too disturbed over the fact his Clevelanders have dropped two of their first three games in the National Football League.

And Jim Lee Howell, coach of the New York Giants who trimmed the Browns for the fourth straight time by 10-6 Sunday, agrees the plight of the Browns isn't an impossible one.

Howell piloted the Giants to three wins over the Browns a year ago, knocking Cleveland out of the Eastern Division crown for only the second time in nine years.

After his Giants won Sunday's thriller before 65,534 fans—Cleveland's biggest opening crowd—Howell said an 8-4 record would be good enough to take the title.

Back in 1954 the Browns also lost two of the first three. They came back to win the next nine, then wrecked Detroit 56-10 in the championship fray.

Of Sunday's game, in which the teams traded 80-yard touchdown drives but which the Giants won on superlative kicking by Pat Summerall and Don Chandler, Brown said:

"I really don't feel too badly about it. We gave it a real good try and just lost. We moved the ball pretty well, but something always seemed to happen."

Among the things which happened to Cleveland were failure to score from the six-yard line after recovering a fumble, and being pinned deep in Brown territory by Chandler's eight punts which averaged 54 yards.

On one occasion the former Florida star punted 73 yards in the air into the Browns' end zone. Twice he kicked out of bounds on the four and once on the six. In every punt exchange the Giants picked up territory the Browns could not regain despite a 343 to 250 advantage in over-all yardage.

The Giants had only 94 yards through the air as 38-year-old Charlie Conerly completed 9 of 17, but the veteran made good on four of five for 68 in the second-quarter touchdown drive. Conerly then scored from one foot out. Summerall, who booted the extra point, placekicked a 31-yard field goal in the fourth quarter to give the Giants an unsurmountable 10-0 edge.

Milt Plum, gaining stature game by game, completed 18 of 37 passes for the Browns for 204 yards. In the late touchdown splurge he completed five of eight for 70 yards, hitting halfback Bob Mitchell with a 33-yard payoff.

Lou Groza had a 46-yard field goal attempt partly blocked in the second quarter and failed to make the extra point when Sam Huff batted the ball down.

Next Sunday the Browns entertain the Chicago Cardinals. Both go into the contest with 1-2 records, and each needs the verdict to stay in contention.

Lee Eyes Big Break In Role As Substitute

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

Curley Lee gets his big chance as a sub in a national television fight with Cleveland Williams at Houston Wednesday night.

Many a youngster has cashed in on the break and made the long climb to the top flight on short notice. Williams, however, may be too tough an obstacle for the 22-year-old Los Angeles heavyweight prospect.

Lee was called in to replace injured Sonny Liston, the high-ranking contender from Philadelphia.

The Arizona-born ex-GI has won nine straight and boasts a 15-1 record in two years of pro fighting. He won his last five fights by kayos and has stopped 12 foes in all.

If he can punch as well as his record indicates, Curley can make it a rough night for the 26-year-old Williams. The Houston veteran is a solid socker in his own right. Williams, a 210-pounder, has a 45-5 record, including 37 kayos.

The ten-rounder will be the only national TV scrap of the week. It will be beamed by ABC 10 p.m., Eastern Daylight Time. The Friday night TV time over NBC has been pre-empted for a special non-boxing show.

Veteran Goalie, Rookie Ice Stars For Rochester

By The Associated Press

A veteran goalie and a promising rookie wingman have the Rochester Americans off to a winning start in the American Hockey League.

The Americans made their 1959-60 debut Sunday night with a 2-0 home victory over the Quebec Aces. Dick Van Impe, 22-year-old left wing, provided all of the scoring and Ed Chadwick, goalie with Toronto of the National Hockey League the past three seasons, turned away all 18 Quebec shots.

The Aces had scored their only victory Saturday night when they beat Hershey 3-1. The Bears came back Sunday night with a 3-0 decision over winless Buffalo while the Providence Reds racked up their fourth victory in as many games with a 6-3 decision over Cleveland. Springfield's Indians, also unbeaten, won their second game Saturday by downing Buffalo 10-3.

Providence got three goals from its new big line of Dutch Reibel, Ray Ross and Bo Elik. George Gosselin paced Cleveland with two goals.

Hershey goalie Bobby Perreault turned in his sixth straight shutout over Buffalo. Perreault did it five times last season.

The 1960 Masters golf tournament is set for April 7-10 at the Augusta National course.

Scalps Indians

Stanton Local Wins, 28-0, In Homecoming Contest

By CHUCK CRONIN
Review Sports Writer

Stanton local of Irondale, returning to form after a loss in its last outing, thundered over rival Salineville, 28-0, in a bruising battle before a Homecoming crowd of 1,200 Saturday afternoon.

Coach Fred Sims' Irons made an impressive debut of their home campaign by scoring twice in the first half and exploding for two quick touchdowns in the final period.

Fumble - plagued Salineville was held in check throughout each period and failed to muster a single scoring threat.

Stanton's dimunitive quarterback Bill Chetock — a question mark offensively in previous games — galloped 40 yards with a punt return in the first quarter and passed for another touchdown in the fourth in capably engineering the Irons to the triumph.

The powerful rushing attack of the Irons brought Coach Dick Jones' Indians back to earth after their crushing victory over Beaver Local last week, 22-6.

The Irons had been dropped by Beaver Local, 8-6, when a conversion attempt was fouled - up by a fumble.

Chetock's scoring run down the sidelines in the first period and another score by halfback John Pilutti on a 2-yard plunge in the second armed the Irons with a 12-0 halftime lead.

The Indians were never able to recover as their offensive attack stalled badly in the second half when Stanton's rugged line repelled each thrust.

After a penalty - marred, scoreless third quarter, the Irons sprang halfback Jim (Sudden) Sanders, fleet 150-pounder, loose on a 18-yard touchdown run and Chetock pitched a short pass to end Frank Pisarsky to wrap up the scoring.

The Irons tried two rushes for conversions in the first half of action and both were halted. Chetock passed to Pisarsky for one and then ran over the second on an end sweep for the second conversion after touchdowns in the second half.

The rebound victory gave Stanton a 2-1 record to carry against Powerful Wayne High School Friday night. It will be the first game under a new, permanent lighting system erected at Memorial Field in Irondale.

Salineville, now 1-3 for the season, was expected to pose a much greater threat to their neighborhood rivals. But fumbles which interrupted important downfield marches and a changing defense employed by Sims effectively stymied the Salineville squad.

Salineville was checked with only three first downs and all came during the fading minutes of the fourth quarter when quarterback Dave Gearin, a hard - nosed senior, filled the air with passes.

Rugged Stanton guard Lonnie Fraley smothered many of Salineville's rushing plays from his linebacker spot, recovered an important fumble and also blocked a kick deep in Salineville territory.

The Irons penetrated to the Salineville one - foot line following Fraley's block of a punt but failed to score when an offsides penalty was charged and they lost the ball on downs. A second scoring chance also fizzled out deep in Salineville territory.

Besides Fraley, Stanton also received sterling line play from big Bob Mills, a guard who also spelled Chetock on occasion at the quarterback post. Guards Ben Chetock and Pete Allen also played outstandingly on defense. Kent Cline, sophomore fullback, and Wayne Ketchum, a junior, reeled off several fairly long runs, but Pilutti and Sanders carried the brunt of Stanton's rushing game.

Fullback Bud Leatherberry, biggest gridder in Salineville's small backfield, teamed with halfback Ron Dunlap to pick up most of the yardage for the Columbiana County squad.

Halftime ceremonies were highlighted by the crowning of Miss Carol Sprouse as 1959 Homecoming Queen. The dark-haired senior was presented a gift by Fraley and Bill Chetock, Stanton's co - captains.

East Junior High Stops Toronto, 8-0

A first period touchdown was all East Junior High needed to down Toronto, 8-0, Saturday at Toronto.

Frank McComas swept the end for 12 yards and the touchdown then added the two extra points.

A vaunted East End defense kept Toronto from threatening throughout the contest.

The running of McComas, John Sparks and Tom Kraft featured for the Panthers along with the offensive line work of Jim Wilson, Vic Wolfe and Randy Stover.

East Junior High is scheduled to play at Wellsville Thursday.

East Liverpool's other junior high school — Westgate — dropped a 20-0 decision at Steubenville Saturday.

The young Steubenville gridders pushed across one touchdown in the third period while two others came on long pass plays with less than three minutes left in the game.

The running of Bob Parsons featured for Westgate, including one gallop of 20 yards.

The defeat leaves Westgate with a 1-1 mark.

California Driver Wins Grand Prix For Sports Cars

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — Phil Hill of Santa Monica, Calif. raced a 3-liter Ferrari to victory Sunday in the $25,000 U.S. Grand Prix for sports cars — even though his generator gave out on the first lap.

Hill won the 203.05 mile race in a record 2:16.45, averaging 89.05 miles per hour. The surpassed last year's average of 88 miles an hour set by Chuck Daigh of Long Beach, Calif. Daigh fell out of the race with engine trouble only 100 yards from the starting line.

Two of Hill's key challengers dropped out with engine trouble about half way through the race watched by some 75,000 fans.

Ritchie Ginther of Granada Hills, Calif., the early leader, and England's great Sterling Moss were both sidelined with overheated engines and failing oil pressure. Moss, in his Aston-Martin, went to the pits on the 26th lap and Ginther, in a 4.1 Ferrari, bowed out on the 32nd.

Hill said he drove the rest of the race on his battery after his generator failed.

"Luckily, we had charged it up just before the race — at my insistence. The generator had been giving us trouble and I didn't want a thing like that to put us out of the race," he said.

Detroit, Boston Prove Montreal Can Be Taken

By The Associated Press

Now that the Detroit Red Wings and the Boston Bruins have shown that the Montreal Canadiens are not awesome characters ready to devour their opponents in every game, there is some hope in the camps of five National Hockey League teams.

Before the new season opened last week, just about every hockey-minded person was ready to award the championship to the power - laden Canadiens, leaving only the three other playoff positions up for grabs.

But the Canadiens, after opening the campaign at home with a 4-1 victory over Boston, were forced to settle for a 1-1 tie with Detroit Saturday and Sunday night bowed to the Bruins 8-4 at Boston.

Meantime, the Toronto Maple Leafs swung into action with two victories. They beat the Black Hawks 6-3 in Toronto Saturday and repeated 3-1 at Chicago Sunday night. New York's Rangers dropped their third straight, losing to Boston 6-4 Saturday and 4-2 to Detroit Sunday night.

The Bruins took a 4-3 lead into the final period against the Canadiens with Fern Flaman scoring the lead goal for his first in 145 regular season games. Then they went wild, scoring four times in the final period to tie their modern, single game scoring record against the Montreal club.

First period goals by Bob Pulford, while the Leafs were shorthanded, and rookie Ted Hampson were all the Leafs needed to down the disorganized Hawks Sunday.

Andy Hebenton and Larry Popein got the Rangers off in front but the Wings' Gary Aldcorn and Jerry Melnyk tied it in the second. Detroit went in front to stay at 16:09 of the final period on a 50-foot screen shot by Warren Godfrey.

Rebels Drop 4th Straight

Fairfield - Waterford was still without a victory today after Springfield Local romped to a 34-0 win Saturday afternoon on the winner's home field.

Held to six-points in the first half, Springfield put the game out of reach for the Rebels with two touchdowns in the third quarter and two more in the fourth.

Jack Rauch hit paydirt on three occasions with runs of 36 and 13 yards and the other on a 43-yard pass from Borkes. Roger Myers scored the other two TD's for the winners.

Funeral Set Tuesday For Ex-Big Leaguer

Hearn died at his home here Saturday night, after an illness.

Hearn reached the majors with the St. Louis Cardinals in 1910, and stayed in the big time six years with the Cards, New York Giants and Chicago White Sox.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Hooray! I finally ran across someone in your column who has the same problem I have. I refer to the wife who complained because her husband was hitting her in his sleep. Maybe if I explain the basis for my troubles, it will help "Black and Blue" understand hers.

My husband started poking me during the night very early in our marriage. I, too, had more than one shiner. At first I used to get mad and wake him up and ask what's the big idea. He didn't even know he had done it. He apologized and felt terrible.

Then I got to the bottom of the problem. Before we were married my husband shared a bed with his brother Leonard.

Leonard was always socking my husband and kicking him in the back. Leonard was bigger, so my husband used to wait until Leonard fell asleep before he'd clobber him.

Now, after all these years, it's hard for my husband to get these old memories out of his mind.

When he hits me at night he doesn't mean anything. He just thinks he's back sleeping with Leonard.—DON'T MIND.

-:-

Dear Don't Mind: Thanks for your noble effort to help Black and Blue" understand her problem. When you get tired of buying beefsteak for that eye, why not tell your husband if he doesn't stop belting you he could find himself back sleeping with Leonard. I'll bet this will cut down on the nocturnal casualties.

First Duty To Hubby

Dear Ann: My mother considered me the perfect child. She always knew I'd marry Prince Charming. Well, five years ago I married the only man I ever loved and the only one she hated.

After our marriage she refused to see him or even speak his name. For more than a year I tried (without success) to get her to accept him. When she became furious because he came to pick me up at her home I could no longer tolerate it, so I broke with her completely.

For two years we did not see each other. Then the family doctor phoned to tell me Mother had had a heart attack and should not be left alone. My husband insisted we take her into our home.

Since she's been with us we have not had one dinner in peace. She constantly ridicules my husband, corrects his English and tells me how I disappointed her by marrying a man beneath my social level.

I'm a nervous wreck and leave the dinner table in tears almost every night. What shall I do?—RENA D.

Dear Rena: Your first obligation is to your husband and from your letter he sounds like a gem worth hanging on to.

Make plans immediately to move Mama out and contribute to her support if necessary. If she managed two years without you I assume she has some independent income. The alternative may be a broken marriage or a monstrous doctor bill to restore your own shattered health.

Only One 'Junior'

Dear Ann: My problem may seem trivial to you but it means a great deal to us, so please answer.

Our first child is due before long. If it's a boy we want to name him Joseph Jr. But my husband already has a son by a previous marriage whose name is Joseph Jr. Would it be proper to name this one "Junior" too?—INFANTICIPATING.

-:-

Dear Infanticipating: Sorry — only one "junior" to a papa. Your husband has used up his quota.

-:-

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Poetry Safety Valve Of Mankind To Him

NEWARK, N. J. (AP) — To Louis Ginsberg, poetry is "the safety valve of mankind."

Ginsberg, a lecturer at Rutgers evening college, has devoted nearly half a century to making poetry more palatable to students and to the man in the street.

A composer of hundreds of poems himself, Ginsberg says poets "express better and more clearly the feelings of most of us who cannot articulate such thoughts."

Poetry helps the reader to release "bottled up feelings," and this effect is more beneficial than medicine, he says.

Ginsberg is the father of Alan Ginsberg, a poet of the beat generation.

Former City Residents Adopt Korean Waif

Kim Ruth can afford to be chubby now that she's safe in the arms of Mr. and Mrs. William Morgan, former East Liverpool residents, who adopted the little Korean waif from the misery and starvation of the war-ravaged country.

Kim Ruth, only 14 months old, is shown with Mrs. Morgan and her own three children, Jonathon, 2, Elizabeth, 7 months, and Daniel, 3, at their home in El Cajon, Calif.

The child, found amidst the rubble of a garbage dump in Seoul, Korea, by an American station - wagon driver, is now occupied with the business of loving her unexpected parents.

Now named Rebeccah Morgan, she was one of the babies salvaged by the now famous Holt family, who left Oregon for Seoul to start their own orphanage with the idea of obtaining American homes for the little outcasts and to organize a "baby-lift" for people like the Morgans. It took a long time and a lot of red tape.

When Mr. and Mrs. Morgan entered into negotiations for a Korean baby, they had two sons and their daughter was on the way.

They were checked out, routinely, just as if applying in the United States for a baby to adopt. An adoption agency in Detroit made the necessary home study for three months and the couple had to wait six weeks before receiving the necessary papers.

On Oct. 5, 1958, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan received a picture of the child, who now goes as Becky, and the Holts said she was known as Kim Ruth, had a birthdate of July 30, 1958, was then 6 weeks old, weighing 5 pounds and was 22 inches tall. The Holts could find nothing encouraging to say about her appearance except that she had "silky black hair."

Mrs. Morgan went along to Portland to meet the Holts' chartered plane bringing 100 babies, including Becky. The infant suffered many ailments, including malnutrition, and was so weak she could not cry or move for three days. She was put immediately under the care of a doctor by the Morgans.

Morgan is a chewing gum and candy salesman who had studied for the ministry and when he and his wife decided to adopt a Korean orphan, he still was in college in Michigan and their first son was a year old.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Morgan of Glenmoor and Mrs. Morgan, the former Deborah Jean Smith, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald F. Smith, 2613 St. Clair Ave.

County Has Distributed 45 Tons Of Foods In 6 Months

Almost 45 tons of surplus foods has been distributed in Columbiana County during the first six months of the program's operation, according to Robert Bycroft, Columbiana County Welfare director and head of the relief phase.

A total of 89,902 pounds of six different kinds of food was distributed, including 13,446 pounds of powdered milk, 9,138 pounds of rice, 43,840 pounds of flour, 11,350 pounds of cornmeal, 10,297 pounds of butter and 2,254 13-ounce cans of powdered egg solids.

During the period 7,297 relief cases were certified, involving 17,492 persons, with 4,569 cases receiving the food for 12,613 persons. Of these persons, 2,377 were considered in the low-income bracket such as steel strikers.

Sixty-three per cent of the cases certified received food, involving 72 per cent of persons entitled to such aid.

The county purchased $2,152.31 worth of equipment and spent $4,957.94 for the first six months, making the cost per person 39 cents, Bycroft said.

Beginning this month, aid for the aged clients will get surplus food only once every two months but they will receive a two - month supply. Thus, they will not have to make two trips to pick up the food at one of the distribution centers.

Foods on the list for October are powdered milk, rice, flour, cornmeal, and powdered egg solids.

The schedule for distribution includes:

Tuesday, Columbiana warehouse, for County Welfare, Soldiers and Sailors and East Palestine relief clients.

Wednesday, Columbiana warehouse, for aid for aged.

Thursday, Salem City Hall, for welfare, Soldiers and Sailors, Salem Relief and Aid for Aged Persons.

Friday, Wellsville City Hall, county welfare, Soldiers and Sailors, Wellsville Relief and aid for aged recipients.

Monday, Oct. 19, East Liverpool Central Fire Station, for county welfare, East Liverpool Relief and Soldiers and Sailors, from 9 a. m. to noon, and aid for aged, 1 to 3 p. m.

Distribution hours at Columbiana, Salem and Wellsville will be 9 a. m. to noon, Bycroft said.

More than two - thirds of all the natural gas now stored underground in the United States is located in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan and West Virginia.

Interviews To Be Held Here For State Patrol Applicants

Cpl. John Miller of the State Highway Patrol post at Lisbon will be at the Review office, 210 E. 4th St., Thursday afternoon from 2 to 4 to interview young men interested in the patrol as a career.

There are openings for recruit patrolmen and cadet dispatchers, Cpl. Miller said, as the patrol seeks to reach its authorized force.

Immediate action may qualify a prospective patrolman for the Patrol Academy Class slated to start this winter, he said.

Applicants may either become civilian dispatchers in the cadet program or enter directly in the training school.

Men must be 21 to be a patrolman, a high school graduate or equivalent, at least 5 feet 8, weigh at least 165 and of excellent physical and moral character.

A cadet dispatcher will be accepted 2 months prior to his 20th birthday anniversary, with certain physical requirements waived providing it is indicated he will reach them before he is 21.

The cadet program enables prospective patrolmen the opportunity to learn the functions and organization of the patrol, and helps him decide if it is the career he wants before entering the rigorous training school.

A cadet dispatchers pay starts at $288 a month. A trainee receives $315 upon entering the academy, and advances to $355 when commissioned as a patrolman. A new improved salary schedule is due Jan. 1. The patrol has a pension system, group life and sickness insurance and furnishes all equipment.

Any questions about the program will be answered by Cpl. Miller at the Review Thursday, or at the post headquarters on Route 30 a half mile south of Lisbon.

He was cited for exceptionally good police investigation and for his active participation in the county association.
